DEPTH WITH REACH

Three and a half decades of engineering leaves its mark, not on the surface, but in the layers beneath.

This year's Annual Report theme, Depth with Reach, is drawn from the language of geology. Just as a core sample reveals the history of the earth in cross-section, each stratum is a distinct era, each layer richer and more complex than the one above. Sasken's journey is written in layers of expertise built over time. From the foundational networks of the 1990s to the silicon architectures of the 2000s, from embedded systems and automotive software to today's AI-enabled, chip-to-cognition engineering capabilities, every decade has added a new stratum of knowledge, each one anchored in the one before it.

These layers have created something more than accumulated expertise. They have created the ability to go deeper where it matters and extend farther where opportunities emerge.

Rising Currents, last year's theme, captured the momentum of Sasken in motion. Waves building, energy gathering, direction finding its form. FY26 marked the next stage of that journey: a deliberate move towards a T-shaped enterprise. The vertical stem represents depth, deepening strategic engagements, strengthening domain expertise, and increasing participation across customer roadmaps. The horizontal bar represents reach, applying these capabilities across new customers, adjacent industries, emerging technologies, and new engineering opportunities.

This year, progress meant going deeper and reaching wider. Deeper into customer relationships. Deeper into execution discipline. Wider across the chip-to-cognition value chain. Wider in the application of our capabilities and the markets we can serve.

The result is a business built not only for growth, but for resilience, relevance, and sustainable value creation.

We have never defined our ambition by how many directions we pursue, nor by the depth of expertise alone. We define it by our ability to combine both to become indispensable in the domains we know best while continually extending the value we create in new areas.

This is Sasken at thirty-eight. Grounded. Layered. Built to last.

ENGINEERING WHAT ENDURES

*We did not set out to build a services company.
We set out to build an engineering institution.*

For over three decades, Sasken has engineered silicon, embedded software, and device platforms for mission-critical industries. From automotive systems to satellite communications, from public safety networks to industrial automation, our work has always operated where precision matters.

FY2025-26 was a year of steady structural progress.

In a world shaped by accelerating AI adoption, semiconductor complexity, and software-defined transformation, our focus remained consistent: strengthen the foundation, deepen customer relationships, and improve execution discipline.

We sharpened our portfolio mix.

We improved order-book quality.

We strengthened operating leverage.

We expanded chip-to-cognition capabilities.

Not through dramatic shifts but through deliberate choices.

*Volatility tests institutions.
Discipline builds them.*

TECHNOLOGY AND MARKETS

Engineering at the Convergence of Silicon, Software and Intelligence

Technology cycles across industries continued to accelerate through FY2025-26, even as global enterprises operated within a cautious macroeconomic environment. Investments increasingly shifted toward AI-enabled systems, software-defined architectures, connected platforms, and intelligent automation. Across sectors, organizations focused on improving operational resilience, accelerating product lifecycles, and building scalable digital infrastructure capable of supporting long-term transformation.

This transition is reshaping the role of engineering partners. Customers are now seeking integrated capabilities spanning silicon, embedded software, connectivity, cloud, AI, and lifecycle sustenance, supported by deeper domain expertise and system-level understanding. As products become more intelligent, connected, and software-driven, the convergence between hardware, software, and data continues to intensify.

Sasken's positioning as a chip-to-cognition engineering partner remains aligned to these industry shifts. With capabilities spanning semiconductor engineering, embedded systems, connected devices, digital platforms, and AI-led engineering services, we continue to support customers across mission-critical industries including automotive, communications, industrials, satellite systems, public safety, and smart devices.

Our focus during FY2025-26 remained on strengthening long-term customer engagements, expanding capability depth, and improving execution agility while maintaining disciplined operational focus.

SEMICONDUCTORS

The semiconductor industry continued to experience structural growth during FY2025-26, driven by AI acceleration, edge computing, automotive electronics, high-performance computing, and increasing demand for energy-efficient architectures. As AI workloads expand from centralized data centers to edge devices, semiconductor design priorities are increasingly centered around performance-per-watt optimization, heterogeneous integration, advanced packaging, and system-aware silicon architectures.

At the same time, rising chip complexity, compressed design cycles, and evolving supply-chain dynamics are encouraging customers to engage engineering partners earlier in the development lifecycle. Demand remains strong across analog, mixed-signal, verification, firmware, validation, and platform integration services.

India's semiconductor ecosystem also continued to gain momentum through design-led initiatives, ecosystem investments, and localization efforts, creating long-term opportunities for engineering-led organizations.

Sasken strengthened its semiconductor engagements across analog and mixed-signal design, SoC platform engineering, validation, and embedded firmware development during the year.

Our work increasingly spans automotive compute platforms, AI-enabled devices, connectivity solutions, and edge systems.

We continue to invest in reusable IP frameworks, advanced verification capabilities, and system-level engineering expertise to address growing customer requirements around complexity, reliability, and faster time-to-market.

While long-term industry demand remains positive, the sector continues to face challenges including talent availability, supply-chain uncertainties, and memory market volatility, particularly impacting device ecosystems globally.

AUTOMOTIVE

The automotive industry continues its transition toward software-defined and connected mobility platforms. Vehicle architectures are increasingly centered around centralized compute, zonal electronics, connectivity, electrification, and intelligent software layers. Investments remain focused on ADAS, telematics, infotainment, cybersecurity, OTA platforms, and digital cockpit systems.

Although EV adoption witnessed moderation in certain markets due to macroeconomic and pricing pressures, engineering investments in software-defined vehicle platforms remained resilient. OEMs and Tier-1 suppliers continue prioritizing software reuse, platform standardization, compliance, and lifecycle software management.

Sasken continued to strengthen its presence across embedded automotive software, telematics, digital cockpit platforms, connectivity stacks, middleware integration, and validation engineering. During the year, we supported programs across connected mobility, autonomous systems, and next-generation platform engineering initiatives.

Our integrated engineering capabilities across embedded systems, communications technologies, cybersecurity, and validation continue to position us as a long-term engineering partner supporting evolving automotive technology roadmaps.

COMMUNICATIONS, NETWORKS & DEVICES

Communications technologies continued evolving rapidly with the expansion of 5G ecosystems, early 6G research, private networks, satellite-enabled communications, and edge intelligence. Enterprises are increasingly focused on network efficiency, interoperability, automation, and AI-led optimization across distributed environments.

The convergence of terrestrial and non-terrestrial networks is creating new opportunities across satellite communications, public safety systems, industrial connectivity, and mobility applications. At the same time, device ecosystems are becoming increasingly AI-enabled, requiring tighter integration between connectivity, software, and hardware platforms.

Sasken continued supporting customers across communications infrastructure, protocol stack modernization, embedded software engineering, network automation, satellite communications, and connected device platforms.

Our engineering teams worked on programs spanning enterprise devices, NTN-enabled platforms, public safety communication systems, and next-generation connectivity solutions.

The device ecosystem, however, continued to experience periodic supply-side pressures, particularly around memory availability and component sourcing. We remain focused on maintaining operational agility and diversified supply-chain engagement models to address evolving market conditions.

INDUSTRIALS

Industrial enterprises continued accelerating investments in automation, intelligent manufacturing, predictive maintenance, and connected operational technologies. Digital twins, industrial IoT, AI-driven analytics, and cloud-connected industrial systems are increasingly becoming foundational to modern manufacturing environments.

Alongside operational digitization, cybersecurity within industrial and operational technology environments has become a critical priority, particularly across mission-critical infrastructure. Sasken's industrial engineering capabilities remain focused on enabling secure, connected, and scalable industrial systems.

Our work spans embedded platforms, connected machinery, cloud-integrated industrial solutions, predictive maintenance frameworks, and AI-enabled operational intelligence.

We continue to strengthen capabilities across cloud-native architectures, DevOps, AI/ML integration, and secure engineering practices to support industrial customers navigating digital transformation initiatives.

DIGITAL SERVICES

The digital engineering landscape is increasingly shaped by AI-led transformation, cloud-native development, intelligent automation, and data-driven product ecosystems. Enterprises are moving beyond isolated digital initiatives toward integrated platforms that combine software engineering, AI, observability, cybersecurity, and operational intelligence.

Generative AI is beginning to influence engineering workflows across software development, testing, platform operations, and product lifecycle management. At the same time, organizations remain focused on governance, data readiness, model reliability, and secure deployment frameworks.

Sasken continued investing in AI-enabled engineering accelerators, DevSecOps frameworks, observability platforms, CloudOps, and intelligent automation capabilities. During the year, we also expanded engagements involving AI-led validation, predictive analytics, operational data platforms, and platform engineering across automotive, communications, and industrial customers.

Our focus remains on applying AI responsibly within engineering environments while improving productivity, scalability, and solution quality across customer programs.

LOOKING AHEAD

Technology transformation across industries is expected to remain centered around AI integration, software-defined systems, connected platforms, semiconductor innovation, and intelligent automation. Engineering complexity is likely to increase further as enterprises seek tighter convergence between silicon, software, cloud, and AI-driven intelligence.

At the same time, global markets may continue to experience periodic uncertainty arising from supply-chain shifts, geopolitical developments, component availability constraints, evolving regulatory environments, and talent shortages in specialized domains.

Sasken remains focused on navigating these shifts through disciplined execution, deeper customer engagement, investments in future-ready capabilities, and continued strengthening of its chip-to-cognition engineering portfolio.

Our emphasis remains on building scalable, resilient, and system-led engineering solutions aligned to long-term customer and industry requirements.

OUR STORY

Acting Where It Matters

At Sasken, we believe Corporate Social Responsibility is not a programme that runs alongside the business but is an expression of the values that run through it. It is our answer to real social needs, sustained not by obligation but by genuine conviction that businesses are responsible citizens of the communities they operate in.

During FY 2025-26, Sasken spent ₹162.20 lakhs across five long-term programs exceeding our statutory CSR obligation of ₹93.61 lakhs by a significant margin. These programs were not designed as one time interventions. They were built to last, to deepen and to deliver impact that compounds over time.

Meaningful impact deepens with time. Our commitment to each community we serve is measured not by the scale of a single year, but by the continuity of our presence across many.

OUR PHILOSOPHY

Three Principles. Sustained Impact.

Every Sasken CSR initiative is anchored in three core beliefs that guide how we engage, how we invest, and how we measure the difference we make.

CONTINUITY

Sustainable change requires organizations to remain engaged over multiple years and not just across funding cycles.

PARTNERSHIP

Lasting impact is created through trusted implementation partners with deep community roots and on-the-ground credibility.

ACCOUNTABILITY

Outcomes must be measured honestly - both quantitatively and qualitatively, including what did not work.

GOVERNANCE & MANAGEMENT

From Need to Action

Sasken's management approach to CSR is built on a simple but disciplined principle: every initiative begins with identifying a genuine, unmet need; responds through sustained, partner-led action; and returns to measure what has actually changed. Our CSR programs are not static commitments but are living engagements, reviewed, refined, and renewed each year in response to what the evidence tells us.

This 'from need to action' framework ensures that resources flow to where impact is deepest, and that accountability is built into the design of every program not added as an afterthought.

WOMEN'S EMPOWERMENT

Project SEWA: Financial Inclusion at Scale

For twelve years, Sasken has stood alongside the Self-Employed Women's Association (SEWA) in its mission to bring financial inclusion and economic dignity to women working within India's informal sector. This is not a partnership measured in funding cycles. It is one measured in lives changed and trust earned.

Through the m-Bachat digital savings platform and the Membership Management System (MMS), the initiative has created a digital infrastructure of empowerment, enabling nearly 25 lakh women across 11 states, 3 Union Territories, and 11 Aspirational Districts to save, transact, and build financial resilience on their own terms.

HEALTHCARE

Project NAYANA: Restoring Sight, Restoring Lives

In rural Karnataka, distance and cost have long been barriers between people and the eye care they need. Preventable blindness from diabetic retinopathy, glaucoma, and refractive error quietly robs individuals of their independence and livelihood.

Project NAYANA exists to close that gap.

Through Sasken's partnership with Vittala International Institute of Ophthalmology, a mobile eye hospital travels to underserved communities, bringing specialist-level diagnosis and treatment directly to those who cannot access it otherwise. Grant-assisted surgeries and procedures ensure that cost is never the reason someone loses their sight.

NUTRITION

Morning Nutrition Program: Learning Begins with Nourishment

A child who arrives at school hungry cannot learn. This single, non-negotiable truth is at the heart of Sasken's Morning Nutrition Program. Now in its third consecutive year of partnership with the Sri Sathya Sai Annapoorna Trust.

Across 316 government schools in Chintamani Taluk,

Karnataka, more than 13,000 children begin each school day with a nutritious meal before their first lesson. The impact is not merely physical. Schools report improved attendance, stronger classroom concentration, and a measurable reduction in nutrition-related illnesses. When a child is nourished, learning becomes possible.

EMPLOYABILITY

Project Skill Development: From Campus to Career

For many young people from underprivileged backgrounds, a college degree is a milestone but not a guarantee. The gap between education and employment, in communication, confidence, and workplace readiness can be just as wide as the gap in access to education itself.

Through Sasken's partnership with My Little Bit and the dreamz-unlimited initiative, the Integrated Skill Development Program (ISDP) is woven directly into academic curricula across Karnataka. It does not replace education. It completes it, equipping students with the skills employers actually value.

ELDERLY CARE

Project Joy of Giving: Dignity at Every Stage of Life

At Sipani Seva Sadan, approximately 150 elderly residents live without family support, without independent means, and without the safety net that most of us take for granted. For them, a daily meal is not a convenience, it is the difference between stability and crisis.

Since 2023, Project Joy of Giving delivered through Sasken's partnership with Joy of Giving NGO has ensured that not a single meal is missed. The results go beyond nutrition. Medication adherence has improved. Malnutrition-related medical emergencies have fallen. And caregivers report meaningfully improved emotional well-being and stability among residents.

LOOKING AHEAD

What Continuity Makes Possible

The Morning Nutrition Program entered its third year. Project SEWA marked twelve years of sustained partnership. Project NAYANA expanded its reach across rural Karnataka. Skill Development initiatives continued scaling economic mobility for underprivileged youth. Elderly care ensured that 150 individuals faced each day with certainty, not anxiety.

"Whether supporting a child who begins the school day nourished, enabling financial inclusion for a woman building her own savings, preparing a young person for their first salary, preserving the sight of someone who feared they would lose it, or ensuring dignity for an elderly resident without family; our CSR approach focuses on meaningful engagement that endures."

As Sasken moves forward, we remain committed to strengthening these initiatives responsibly, deepening community partnerships, and aligning technology, compassion, and accountability toward long-term social progress.

This is what responsible citizenship looks like.
Not a moment. A commitment.

EMPOWERING OUR PEOPLE

Building a Resilient and Future-Ready Organization

A key reflection of this stability has been sustained workforce retention throughout the year. Trailing twelve-month attrition remained below double digits, closing at 8.98% in Q4 FY26. This reflects focused efforts toward career development, meaningful engagement, transparent communication, and employee support initiatives.

Throughout FY2025-26, our people initiatives remained anchored around:

- Capability building and future-ready learning
- Leadership development and mentoring
- Diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI)

Pragyan, our flagship learning festival, continued to strengthen cross-functional learning and technical collaboration across the organization. Gurukul, Sasken's digital learning platform, supported structured learning journeys across semiconductor engineering, embedded systems, AI, cloud technologies, cybersecurity, communications, and software-defined systems.

We also expanded targeted programs around Generative AI, communication effectiveness, execution excellence, and leadership development. Mentoring initiatives such as KenGuide continued to support career development, knowledge sharing, and cross-functional collaboration across teams.

Our Technical Competency Benchmarking (TCB) framework and KenMAP proficiency model continued to guide focused capability development across strategic domains. During the year, the framework was further expanded into areas such as Data Science and Product Security to support future capability requirements.

The Shift-Left initiative continued to strengthen early engagement with engineering students through structured pre-onboarding programs in embedded systems and software engineering. This approach continues to improve workforce readiness and accelerate productivity for campus hires.

CHAMPIONING DIVERSITY, EQUITY, AND INCLUSION

Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (DEI) continue to remain integral to Sasken's people philosophy and workplace culture. We are committed to building an environment where employees from diverse backgrounds feel respected, supported, and empowered to grow.

Women represented 27% of global hires during FY26, with strong participation across apprenticeship and campus hiring programs. During the year, we continued initiatives such as SHESpeaks, SHEJoins, SHELeads, and HERHorizon, focused on leadership development, career progression, mentoring, and community building for women employees.

We also continued focused inclusion initiatives for differently abled and underrepresented groups through accessibility interventions, inclusive engagement programs, and family-oriented activities aimed at strengthening a culture of belonging.

Our continued efforts toward workplace equity and inclusion were recognized externally during the year, with Sasken being recognized as a Best Company for Women by Avtar and Seramount for the third consecutive year.

A CULTURE OF WELL-BEING, RECOGNITION, AND SUSTAINABILITY

Employee well-being continued to remain an important focus area during FY26. Through initiatives such as Club Asana, employee assistance programs (KenPal), counselling support, health camps, fitness engagements, the Sasken Championship League, and the Sasken Premier League cricket tournament, we continued to support physical, emotional, and mental well-being across the organization.

Advancing as a Scalable, Systems-Led Chip-to-Cognition Engineering Enterprise.

As we enter FY2026-27, the global technology environment continues to transition toward integrated, intelligent, and software-defined systems. Enterprises are increasingly adopting platform-led transformation models in which silicon, embedded software, connectivity, cloud, and AI operate as unified systems. This structural shift aligns with Sasken's strategic pivot toward becoming a systems-focused, full-stack engineering partner across the Chip-to-Cognition continuum.

Over the past year, the Company has strengthened its position across semiconductor design, embedded platforms, automotive software, communications infrastructure, satellite ecosystems, and digital engineering. Progress under the 60x4x3 framework has enabled deeper engagement with strategic accounts, expansion in priority markets, and enhanced capability depth. A growing proportion of engagements now span architecture definition, silicon engineering, platform software development, validation, integration, and lifecycle sustenance through multi-year programs.

In the semiconductor segment, AI-driven workloads, automotive compute platforms, and energy-efficient architecture continue to shape customer roadmaps. As chip complexity increases and development cycles compress, customers are seeking system-level partners with reusable IP and strong validation capabilities. The Company's strengthened silicon and platform engineering capabilities position it to engage earlier in the design lifecycle and extend participation across firmware, integration, and production support.

In automotive, the transition toward software-defined vehicles, zonal architectures, and high-performance compute platforms is accelerating. Cybersecurity, virtualization, compliance engineering, and lifecycle automation are becoming foundational. Sasken's capabilities across cockpit platforms, telematics, ADAS support, electrification software, and validation frameworks enable continued participation in these evolving programs.

In communications and satellite ecosystems, the convergence of 5G evolution, Non-Terrestrial Networks (NTN), edge intelligence, and AI-led network optimization is driving demand for embedded software modernization and automation-led validation. Enterprises are prioritizing interoperability, intelligent orchestration, and operational efficiency across distributed systems, areas aligned with the Company's engineering strengths and ODM capabilities.

The Services business is expected to remain the primary growth driver, supported by expanding Global Capability Center (GCC) engagements and deeper account mining across strategic customers. The portfolio mix shift toward higher-value services, combined with disciplined execution and operating leverage achieved over recent quarters, is expected to support margin stability over the medium term. Growth in the product and ODM portfolio will continue to be calibrated through prudent capital allocation and structured operational oversight.

Investments in AI-enabled delivery, reusable engineering platforms, automation frameworks, and talent capability will remain central to scaling responsibly while preserving financial discipline.

Board's Report (Contd.)

The above statements are forward-looking in nature and are based on current expectations, estimates, and projections. Actual results may differ materially due to various risks and uncertainties, including but not limited to changes in global economic conditions, customer spending patterns, regulatory developments, geopolitical factors, supply-chain dynamics, and technology adoption cycles, as detailed in the Risk Management section of this Annual Report.

The Company remains focused on building a scalable, systems-led engineering enterprise that delivers sustainable value across the Chip-to-Cognition spectrum while maintaining disciplined execution and long-term stakeholder alignment.

For a deeper analysis of our strategic direction and market opportunities, please refer to the Management Discussion and Analysis Report and Technology and Markets sections forming part of this report.

26. Overview of the entity's material responsible business conduct issues:

Please indicate material responsible business conduct and sustainability issues pertaining to environmental and social matters that present a risk or an opportunity to your business, rationale for identifying the same, approach to adapt or mitigate the risk along-with its financial implications, as per the following format.

Annexure to Board's Report (Contd.)

Sasken has identified the below material issues through an enhanced materiality mapping that was conducted in FY 2025-26:

Material issue identified	Classification into Risk/ Opportunity	Rationale for identifying the risk / opportunity	In case of risk, approach to adapt or mitigate	Financial implications of the risk or opportunity (Indicate positive or negative implications)
1) Responsible AI & Technology Ethics
	Risk & Opportunity	Risk: - Rapid adoption of AI across Sasken's service offerings and client environments introduces risks around data privacy. - Evolving global regulatory frameworks around AI ethics and transparency are raising compliance expectations across technology service providers. Opportunity: - Clients in regulated industries are increasingly requiring vendors to demonstrate accountable and governed AI practices, creating a clear differentiation opportunity for organisations with mature AI governance frameworks in place.	- A top-down AI strategy guiding investments, capability building, and responsible deployment across the organisation. - AI governance frameworks covering data security, ethical AI use, and explainability are being actively strengthened. - Workforce upskilling programmes in AI and advanced engineering are underway to build internal depth and reduce execution risk. - AI-enabled platforms and domain-integrated solutions are being developed to deliver measurable client outcomes responsibly.	Negative: - Failure to adopt responsible AI practices or meet client governance expectations could lead to loss of engagements and reputational harm. Positive: - Responsible AI governance positions Sasken as a preferred partner for clients in regulated industries that require accountable and auditable AI deployment.
2) Human Capital - Talent, Engagement & Wellbeing
	Risk	- Sasken's service delivery is entirely dependent on highly skilled engineering professionals, making human capital a foundational material issue. - Evolving workforce expectations around growth, flexibility, and wellbeing require continuous adaptation of people practices to remain competitive as an employer.	- Competitive compensation structures supported by formal rewards and recognition programmes to reinforce performance and belonging. - Leadership development, mentoring, and coaching initiatives to build internal capability and support career progression. - Periodic employee engagement surveys to identify concerns early and guide people strategy adjustments. - Holistic wellness programmes addressing physical, mental, and emotional wellbeing across the workforce. - Partnerships with educational institutions to supplement talent access and build a sustainable early-career pipeline.	Negative: High attrition and talent shortages drive up recruitment and training costs, affect delivery timelines, and risk client disengagement and revenue loss.

Annexure to Board's Report (Contd.)

Material issue identified	Classification into Risk/ Opportunity	Rationale for identifying the risk / opportunity	In case of risk, approach to adapt or mitigate	Financial implications of the risk or opportunity (Indicate positive or negative implications)
3) Data Privacy & Information Governance
	Risk & Opportunity	- Sasken processes and manages personally identifiable information and confidential client data across multiple geographies, each carrying distinct and evolving regulatory requirements. - Expanding compliance obligations under frameworks such as GDPR and India's Digital Personal Data Protection Act have materially raised the governance bar for technology service providers.	- Periodic Data Protection Impact Assessments to proactively identify and address privacy risks across projects and geographies. - Robust cross-border data transfer mechanisms to ensure lawful and compliant movement of data across jurisdictions. - Certified under ISO/IEC 27701 for Privacy Information Management and TISAX, affirming alignment with the stringent data governance expectations of automotive and European clients.	Negative: - Privacy breaches carry the risk of client attrition and sustained reputational harm in markets where trust is a core commercial currency. Positive: - ISO/IEC 27701 and TISAX certifications serve as direct commercial prerequisites for winning and retaining engagements with European clients and automotive OEMs operating under GDPR and sector-specific data governance frameworks. - Demonstrated privacy compliance strengthens client trust, accelerates procurement approvals, and reduces contract negotiation friction in privacy-sensitive markets.
4) Technology Disruption & Innovation Readiness
	Risk & Opportunity	Risk - Structural shifts across Sasken's core verticals including software-defined vehicles, autonomous systems, and advanced semiconductor architectures are rapidly reshaping client technology roadmaps. - Failure to anticipate and adapt to these transitions poses a direct risk to relevance, competitiveness, and revenue continuity in core industry segments. Opportunity - Early and sustained capability development in next-generation engineering domains positions Sasken to capture emerging client programmes ahead of competitors. - Deepening technical expertise across transitioning verticals creates meaningful opportunities to expand wallet share with existing clients and attract new ones.	- Continuous R&D investment and structured workforce upskilling across automotive, telecom, semiconductor, and digital engineering domains. - Strengthening capabilities in embedded software, connected platforms, AI-driven engineering, and digital infrastructure to stay ahead of client technology curves. - Sustainable engineering-AI, automotive electronics, advanced manufacturing, high-performance computing, and intelligent edge devices like chipmakers specialized architectures, chiplet-based integration, and energy-efficient, software defined designs and low-power System-on-Chips (SoCs).	Negative: - Insufficient investment in next-generation capabilities risks reduced competitiveness, loss of strategic accounts, and declining revenue in transitioning industry segments. Positive: - Early positioning in software-defined vehicles, autonomous systems, enables Sasken to win high-value emerging programmes, deepen existing client relationships, and grow revenue in premium technology domains ahead of the broader market.

5) Environmental Stewardship — Carbon Intensity
	Risk & Opportunity	Risk - Growing regulatory, investor, and client expectations around climate responsibility have elevated carbon intensity as a material issue requiring active governance and disclosure. - Sasken is subject to increasing scrutiny through BRSR reporting, ESG rating assessments, and client-led sustainability evaluations as part of supply chain due diligence. Opportunity - Early progress on decarbonisation creates a reputational and commercial advantage as climate accountability becomes a standard expectation across global enterprise procurement.	- Transition to 100% renewable energy across operations, with energy efficiency initiatives running in parallel to further reduce consumption. - Stated carbon neutrality commitment by 2030. - Climate risk disclosures being progressively aligned with established international reporting frameworks.	Negative: - Regulatory carbon pricing mechanisms and potential exclusion from ESG-linked investment indices represent tangible financial risks if carbon intensity is not proactively managed. Positive: 86% GHG reduction by practice and 14% reduction by means of Carbon credit purchase from VERRA, 100% green energy & carbon neutrality roadmap, enhance the ESG ratings & strengthen Fortune 500 client relationships.
6) Diversity, Equity & Inclusion
	Opportunity	- Building a diverse, equitable, and inclusive workforce is both a social responsibility and a tangible business differentiator in a competitive engineering talent market. - Sasken's recognition as Best Company for Women in India for three consecutive years reflects meaningful and sustained progress on DE&I, creating measurable reputational and talent acquisition advantages. - Clients and investors are increasingly factoring workforce diversity and inclusion practices into vendor assessments and ESG evaluations, raising the commercial relevance of this issue.	- Structured DE&I policies and inclusive hiring practices embedded across recruitment and people management processes. - Targeted programmes supporting women in technology and leadership roles, reinforcing Sasken's commitment beyond policy into practice. - Equal opportunity and human rights policies that institutionalise a bias-free workplace and create conditions for equitable career growth across the organisation.	Positive: - A diverse and inclusive workforce demonstrably enhances innovation capability, improves employee engagement, and strengthens overall delivery quality. - Sasken's recognition as Best Company for Women for three consecutive years creates measurable recruitment and retention advantages, directly reducing talent acquisition costs in a tight engineering labour market.

7) Supply Chain Responsibility
	Risk & Opportunity	- Sasken's delivery model relies on a network of technology vendors, sub-contractors, and open-source components, each carrying inherent third-party risk that requires active governance. - Non-compliant or vulnerable third-party components can introduce security exposures, quality gaps, and compliance failures that directly affect client deliverables. - Geopolitical supply chain disruptions and single-source dependencies add a layer of operational fragility that can impact delivery continuity in ways that are difficult to anticipate and contain.	- Vendor ecosystem management practices that systematically assess third-party risks across the supplier base before and during engagement. - Open-source component scanning tools deployed to identify and remediate vulnerabilities within the software supply chain before they reach client environments. - Supplier diversification strategies to reduce single-source dependency and build resilience across critical supply chain nodes.	Negative: - Supply chain disruptions or third-party security incidents can result in project delays, cost overruns, contractual penalties, and regulatory consequences arising from supply chain compliance failures. - Overreliance on concentrated vendor relationships amplifies exposure to geopolitical tensions and sector-specific supply disruptions. Positive: - Robust supply chain governance and vendor compliance frameworks strengthen client confidence, particularly with organisations that conduct rigorous supplier due diligence as part of their own ESG and procurement standards.

7. Statement by director responsible for the business responsibility report, highlighting ESG related challenges, targets and achievements.

At Sasken, sustainability remains integral to the way we innovate, operate, and create value. During the year, we strengthened our climate action efforts by increasing renewable energy consumption from 78% to 80% of total electricity usage through wind energy procurement. We also replaced conventional generators with energy-efficient models, contributing to lower our GHG Scope emissions and improved energy efficiency. These initiatives support our long-term commitment towards carbon neutrality by 2030 and Zero Waste to Landfill across our operations.

Our community initiatives continued to deliver meaningful and inclusive impact across healthcare, financial inclusion, and child welfare. Through mobile ophthalmology services, we expanded access to quality eye care in rural communities through screening, treatment, and critical interventions. Our financial inclusion programs empowered beneficiaries by facilitating access to formal savings and credit systems through digital platforms, enhancing financial resilience and economic independence. In addition, our nutrition and child welfare initiatives supported improved health and learning outcomes by providing daily nutritional health drink to students in rural Karnataka, contributing to better nutrition, classroom participation, concentration, and overall well-being.

Strong governance continues to underpin our sustainability approach. During the year, we expanded supplier sustainability assessments by 60%, covering value chain partners, while further strengthening our focus on data privacy, cybersecurity, ethical conduct, and responsible business practices. As we move forward, we remain committed to delivering measurable and sustainable value for our stakeholders, communities, and the environment.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained by us is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the standalone financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2026. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the standalone financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters. We have determined the matters described below to be the key audit matters to be communicated in our report.

Sr. No	Key Audit Matters	How the Key Audit Matters were addressed in our audit
1	Revenue Recognition from Fixed Price Contracts (Refer Note 3(c) to the Standalone Financial Statements) Revenue from fixed price contracts is recognized using percentage of completion method ("POC") as per the input method prescribed under Ind AS 115 - Revenue from contracts with customers ("Ind AS 115") where performance obligations are satisfied over time. The POC method involves computation of actual cost incurred till date and estimation of total future cost to be incurred towards remaining performance obligations over the life of the project, which involves following factors requiring significant auditor attention: i. There is an inherent estimation uncertainty relating to determination of the progress of each contract, cost incurred till date and future cost to complete the remaining performance obligation on the contract, given the customized nature of the contracts.	Our audit procedures related to estimation of total cost to complete the contract for fixed price contracts included but not limited to following: i. Obtained an understanding of the systems, processes and controls implemented by management for recording and computing revenue and associated contract assets and contract liabilities. ii. Verified the design, implementation and operating effectiveness of the internal financial controls implemented by the Company with respect to estimation of future cost to completion, estimation of provision for onerous contract, measurement of contract assets, contract liabilities, total contract revenue on its completion, approval and recording of revenue on a test check basis. iii. Internal Information Technology ('IT') specialists were involved to verify the design and operating effectiveness of key application controls relating to revenue recognition which, included testing of automated controls, system generated reports and system reconciliations. iv. We performed below substantive audit procedures on a test check basis for fixed price contract: - a. Verified the contractual terms to identify the performance obligation and assessed the basis of revenue recognition in accordance with Ind AS 115;

Independent Auditor's Report (Contd.)

Sr. No	Key Audit Matters	How the Key Audit Matters were addressed in our audit
	ii. The estimation of total cost to complete the contract involves significant judgement throughout the period of contract and is subject to revision as the contract progresses based on latest available information and also involves critical estimates to make provision for onerous contract. iii. At year end a significant amount of contract assets and contract liabilities related to each contract is to be identified which involve significant judgement and estimation. In view of above, the above matter has been identified as a key audit matter.	b. Compared the status of delivery of the milestones and customer acceptances with the agreed timelines as per the contract to identify possible delays in achieving the milestones which require changes in estimated cost to complete the contract. c. Performed inquiries with delivery / project managers to corroborate the status of contracts; d. Carried out a retrospective assessment of costs incurred with estimated costs to identify any significant variation and verified whether those variations have been considered in estimating the remaining costs to complete the contract. e. Verified that the revenue in foreign currency is recognised applying the spot exchange rate between the functional currency and the foreign currency at the date of the transaction. f. Verified the mathematical accuracy of the calculation of revenue using the ratio of actual costs incurred to estimated costs; g. Verified the accuracy of the actual cost incurred in respect of fixed price contracts; h. Assessed the appropriateness of contract assets on Balance Sheet date by evaluating the underlying documentation to identify possible changes in estimated costs to complete the remaining performance obligations; and i. Inspected underlying documents to determine reasonableness of contract costs. v. On the basis of above procedures, verified that adequate provision has been accounted for in respect of onerous contracts. vi. Verified that the adequate disclosure has been made in respect of revenue from contracts with customers, contract assets and contract liabilities in compliance with the requirements of Ind AS 115 - 'Revenue from contracts with customer'.
2	Evaluation of uncertain tax positions (Direct Tax and Indirect Tax) Refer Note 33 to the Standalone Financial Statements. The Company has ongoing litigations with respect to Direct tax and Indirect tax at various levels. There are significant matters of interpretation in terms of application of tax laws and rules to determine current and deferred taxes. The Company's tax positions are challenged by the tax authorities on a range of tax matters including indirect tax matters. This requires the Management to make significant judgements and evaluations of the outcome of uncertain tax positions that are currently in litigation before various tax authorities and thus it may significantly impact the recognition of liabilities and contingent liability related disclosure as per requirements of 'Ind AS 37 - Provisions, Contingent Liabilities, and Contingent Assets'.	Our audit procedures related to evaluation of uncertain tax positions included but not limited to following: i. Obtained a detailed understanding of the management's process for determining statutory liabilities, provisions and contingent liabilities pertaining to tax claims and disputes. ii. Verified the design, implementation, and operating effectiveness of key internal financial controls over review and approval of accounting of uncertain tax positions and related disclosures in the Standalone Financial Statements. iii. Obtained the details and understood the nature of tax positions and litigations pending against the Company by reading the minutes of various meetings and discussing the developments during the year for litigations with Chief Risk Officer and with other Senior Management personnel. iv. Obtained management's evaluation on outcome of these matters, where applicable. v. Read the orders received by the Company from the tax authorities.

Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Annexure A to the Independent Auditor's Report

ANNEXURE A TO THE INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT OF EVEN DATE ON THE STANDALONE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS OF SASKEN TECHNOLOGIES LIMITED

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Standalone Financial Statements

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the standalone financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under Section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the company has adequate internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management and Board of Directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management and Board of Director's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the standalone financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the standalone financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the standalone financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the standalone financial statements of current period and are therefore, the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

A company's internal financial control with reference to standalone financial statements is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of standalone financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control with reference to standalone financial statements includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of standalone financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the standalone financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls with Reference to Standalone Financial Statements

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control with reference to standalone financial statements may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

The standalone financial statements have been approved for issue by the Company's Board of Directors on May 08, 2026.

2. Basis of preparation of financial statements

A. Basis of preparation

These standalone financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Indian Accounting Standards prescribed under Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013, (the 'Act') read with the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules 2015 as amended from time to time and other relevant provisions of the Act (Ind AS).

The accounting policies adopted are consistent with those of the previous financial year ended March 31, 2025 and corresponding reporting period except where a newly issued accounting standard is initially adopted or a revision to an existing accounting standard requires a change in accounting policy.

The financial statements correspond to the classification provisions contained in Ind AS 1, "Presentation of Financial Statements". For clarity, various items are aggregated in the Statements of Profit and Loss and Balance Sheet. These items are disaggregated separately in the Notes to the standalone financial statements, where applicable.

These standalone financial statements are presented in Indian Rupees (₹), which is also the Company's functional currency. All amounts included in these standalone financial statements are reported in INR (₹ in lakhs), except share and per share data, unless otherwise stated.

All assets and liabilities have been classified as current and non-current as per the Company's normal operating cycle. Based on the nature of services rendered to customers and time elapsed between deployment of resources and the realisation in cash and cash equivalents of the consideration for such services rendered, the Company has considered an operating cycle of 12 months.

B. Basis of measurement

These standalone financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost convention and on an accrual basis of accounting, except for the following material items which have been measured at fair value as required by relevant Ind AS:

Items	Measurement basis
Derivative financial instruments	Fair value
Investments classified as fair value through profit or loss and OCI	Fair value
Net defined benefit (asset) / liability	Fair value of plan assets less present value of defined benefit obligations
Share based payment options	Fair value

C. Use of estimates and judgments

In preparing these standalone financial statements, management has made judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized prospectively.

(Amount ₹ in lakhs, except share and per share data, unless otherwise stated)

Assumptions and estimation uncertainties

Information about significant areas of estimation, uncertainty and critical judgments in applying accounting policies that have a significant effect on the amounts recognized in the standalone financial statements are included in the following notes:

a) Revenue recognition:

The Company assesses the services promised in a contract and identifies distinct performance obligations in the contract. Identification of distinct performance obligations and the ability of the customer to benefit independently from such obligations, and allocation of transaction price to these distinct performance obligations involves significant judgement. The Company exercises judgement in determining whether the performance obligation is satisfied at a point in time or over a period of time.

The Company uses the percentage of completion i.e. input (cost expended) method to measure progress towards completion in respect of fixed price contracts. Percentage of completion method accounting relies on estimates of total expected contract revenue and costs. This method is followed when reasonably dependable estimates of the revenues and costs applicable to various elements of the contract can be made. Key factors that are reviewed in estimating the future costs to complete include estimates of future labour costs and productivity efficiencies. Because the financial reporting of these contracts depends on estimates that are assessed continually during the term of these contracts, recognized revenue and profit are subject to revisions as the contract progresses to completion. When estimates indicate that a loss will be incurred, the loss is provided for in the period in which the loss becomes probable.

b) Impairment of investment in subsidiaries:

Investments in subsidiaries are tested for impairment at least annually and when events occur or changes in circumstances indicate that the recoverable amount of the asset or cash generating units to which these pertain is less than its carrying value. The recoverable amount of cash generating units is higher of value-in-use and fair value less costs to sell. The calculation of value in use of a cash generating unit involves use of significant estimates and assumptions which includes growth rates and net margins used to calculate projected future cash flows, risk-adjusted discount rate, future economic and market conditions.

c) Income taxes:

Significant judgments are involved in determining the provision for income taxes including judgment on whether tax positions are probable of being sustained in tax assessments. A tax assessment can involve complex issues, which can only be resolved over extended time periods.

d) Deferred taxes:

A deferred tax asset is recognised to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences and tax losses can be utilised. Accordingly, the Company exercises its judgement to reassess the carrying amount of deferred tax assets at the end of each reporting period.

e) Defined benefit plans and compensated absences:

The cost of the defined benefit plans, compensated absences and the present value of the defined benefit obligation are based on actuarial valuation using the projected unit credit method. A actuarial valuation involves making various assumptions that may differ from actual developments in the future. These include the determination of the discount rate, future salary increases, mortality rates and fair value of plan assets. Due to the complexities involved in the valuation and its long-term nature, a defined benefit obligation is highly sensitive to changes in these assumptions. All assumptions are reviewed at each reporting date.

f) Expected credit losses on financial assets:

The impairment provisions of financial assets are based on assumptions about risk of default and expected timing of collection. The Company uses judgment in making these assumptions and selecting the inputs to the impairment calculation, based on the Company's past history, customer's creditworthiness, existing market conditions as well as forward looking estimates at the end of each reporting period.

g) Property, plant and equipment & Intangibles:

The Company reviews the useful life of property, plant and equipment and intangibles at the end of each reporting period.

h) Fair value measurement of financial instruments:

When the fair value of financial assets and financial liabilities recorded in the balance sheet cannot be measured based on quoted prices in active markets, their fair value is measured using valuation techniques. The inputs to these models are taken from observable markets where possible, but where this is not feasible, a degree of judgement is required in establishing fair values. Judgements include considerations of inputs such as liquidity risk, credit risk and volatility. Changes in assumptions about these factors could affect the reported fair value of financial instruments.

i) Leases:

The Company evaluates if an arrangement qualifies to be a lease as per the requirements of Ind AS 116. Identification of a lease requires significant judgement. The Company uses significant judgement in assessing the lease term (including anticipated renewals) and the applicable discount rate. The Company determines the lease term as the non-cancellable period of a lease, together with both periods covered by an option to extend the lease if the Company is reasonably certain to exercise that option; and periods covered by an option to terminate the lease if the Company is reasonably certain not to exercise that option. The discount rate is generally based on the incremental borrowing rate specific to the lease being evaluated or for a portfolio of leases with similar characteristics.

j) Provisions and contingent liabilities:

The Company estimates the provisions that have present obligations as a result of past events and it is probable that outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligations. These provisions are reviewed at the end of each reporting period and are adjusted to reflect the current best estimates. The Company uses significant judgements to assess contingent liabilities. Contingent liabilities are disclosed when there is a possible obligation arising from past events, the existence of which will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the Company or a present obligation that arises from past events where it is either not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation or a reliable estimate of the amount cannot be made. Contingent assets are neither recognised nor disclosed in the standalone financial statements.

k) Share based payments:

The Company estimates the likelihood of the non-market performance conditions being met to determine the number of equity instruments that will ultimately vest.

l) Hedge instruments:

Fair valuation of derivative hedging instruments designated as cash flow hedges involves significant estimates relating to the occurrence of the highly probable cash flow forecast transactions.

D. Measurement of fair values:

Some of the Company's accounting policies and disclosures require measurement of fair values, for both financial and non-financial assets and liabilities.

Fair values are categorized into different levels in a fair value hierarchy based on the inputs used in the valuation techniques as follows:

Level 1: quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;

Level 2: inputs other than quoted prices included in Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices); or Level 3: inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs).

When measuring the fair value of an asset or a liability, the Company uses observable market data as far as possible. If the inputs used to measure the fair value of an asset or a liability fall into different levels of the fair value hierarchy, then the fair value measurement is categorized in its entirety in the same level of the fair value hierarchy as the lowest level input that is significant to the entire measurement.

The Company recognizes transfers between levels of the fair value hierarchy at the end of the reporting period during which the change has occurred.

3. Summary of material accounting policies

(a) Property, plant and equipment (including intangible assets)

i. Recognition and measurement

Items of property, plant and equipment are measured at cost less accumulated depreciation/ amortization and accumulated impairment losses, if any.

(Amount ₹ in lakhs, except share and per share data, unless otherwise stated)

Cost of an item of property, plant and equipment comprises its purchase price, including import duties and non-refundable purchase taxes, after deducting trade discounts and rebates, any directly attributable cost of bringing the item to its working condition for its intended use and estimated costs of dismantling and removing the item and restoring the site on which it is located.

If significant parts of an item of property, plant and equipment have different useful lives, then they are accounted for as separate items (major components) of property, plant and equipment.

The cost of property, plant and equipment not available for use as at each reporting date is disclosed under capital work- in-progress.

Any gain or loss on disposal of an item of property, plant and equipment is recognized in standalone Statement of Profit or Loss.

ii. Subsequent expenditure

Subsequent expenditure is capitalized only if it is probable that the incremental future economic benefits associated with the expenditure will flow to the Company.

iii. Depreciation and amortization

Based on an independent assessment, Management has estimated the useful lives of the following classes of assets, which are lower than or equal to those indicated in Schedule II of the Act. Management believes this best represents the period over which they expect to use these assets. Depreciation is provided using the straight line method (SLM), over the estimated useful life of the asset, as follows:

Assets block	Estimated useful life	Useful life as per Schedule II
Buildings	20	60
Computers	3	3
Electrical fittings	5	10
Furniture and fixtures	10	10
Office equipment	5	5
Vehicles	5	8
Plant and equipment	5	15

Leasehold improvements are amortized over the shorter of estimated useful life of the assets or the related lease term. Freehold land is not depreciated.

Assets with unit value of ₹ 5,000 or less are depreciated entirely in the year of acquisition.

Intangible assets

Intangible assets are stated at cost less accumulated amortization and impairment. Intangible assets are amortized over their respective estimated useful lives on a straight-line basis, from the date that they are available for use. The estimated useful life of an identifiable intangible asset is based on a number of factors including the effects of obsolescence, demand, competition and other economic factors (such as the stability of the industry and known technological advances) and the level of maintenance expenditures required to obtain the expected future cash flows from the asset.

Asset block	Estimated useful life

Computer software	3-5 years
-------------------	-----------

The cost of property, plant and equipment not available for use before such date are disclosed under capital work- in-progress.

(b) Leases

The Company assesses whether a contract contains a lease, at inception of a contract. A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration. To assess whether a contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset, the Company assesses whether: (i) the contract involves the use of an identified asset (ii) the Company has substantially all of the economic benefits from use of the asset through the period of the lease and (iii) the Company has the right to direct the use of the asset.

Company as a lessee

The Company accounts for each lease component within the contract as a lease separately from non-lease components of the contract and allocates the consideration in the contract to each lease component on the basis of the relative standalone price of the lease component and the aggregate standalone price of the non-lease components.

The Company measures the lease liability at the present value of the remaining lease payments, discounted using the incremental borrowing rate at the date of initial application. The lease liability is subsequently remeasured by increasing the carrying amount to reflect interest on the lease liability, reducing the carrying amount to reflect the lease payments made and remeasuring the carrying amount to reflect any reassessment or lease modifications or to reflect revised in-substance fixed lease payments.

The Company measures the right-of-use asset at an amount equal to the lease liability, adjusted by the amount of any prepaid or accrued lease payments relating to that lease recognized in the balance sheet immediately before the date of initial application. The right-of-use assets is depreciated using the straight-line method from the date of initial application over the shorter of lease term or useful life of right-of-use asset. The estimated useful lives of right-of-use assets are determined on the same basis as those of property, plant and equipment. Right-of-use assets are tested for impairment whenever there is any indication that their carrying amounts may not be recoverable. Impairment loss, if any, is recognized in the standalone statement of Profit and Loss.

The Company has elected not to apply the requirements of Ind AS 116 to short-term leases of all assets that have a lease term of 12 months or less and leases for which the underlying asset is of low value. The lease payments associated with these leases are recognized as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

(c) Revenue

The Company derives revenues from rendering software services, installation and commissioning services and maintenance services.

Revenue is recognized upon transfer of control of promised services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration which the Company expects to receive in exchange for those services.

i. Time and Material contracts

Revenue and costs relating to time and material contracts are recognized as and when the services are rendered.

ii. Fixed-price contracts

Revenue from fixed price service contracts and customized technology developments is recognized based on the percentage of completion method (POC) of accounting with contract cost incurred determining the degree of completion of the performance obligation. Revenue from maintenance contracts is recognized ratably over the term of the maintenance arrangement.

The solutions offered by the Company may include supply of third-party software. In such cases, revenue for supply of such third party software are recorded at gross or net basis depending on whether the Company is acting as the principal or as an agent of the customer. The Company recognizes revenue in the gross amount of consideration when it is acting as a principal and at net amount of consideration when it is acting as an agent.

iii. Others

Revenue from royalty is recognized when the later of the following events occurs;

- a) the subsequent sale or usage occurs; or
- b) the performance obligation to which some or all of the sales-based or usage-based royalty has been allocated has been satisfied (or partially satisfied).

Revenue is measured based on the transaction price, which is the consideration, adjusted for volume discounts, service level credits, performance bonuses, price concessions and incentives, if any, as specified in the contract with the customer. Revenue also excludes taxes collected from customers.

Contract assets are recognized when there is excess of revenue earned over billings on contracts. Contract assets are classified as unbilled receivables (only act of invoicing is pending) when there is unconditional right to receive cash, and only passage of time is required, as per contractual terms.

Deferred revenue ("contract liability") is recognized when there is billings in excess of revenues. Advances received for services are reported as liabilities until all conditions for revenue recognition are met.

(Amount ₹ in lakhs, except share and per share data, unless otherwise stated)

Interest income is recognized as it accrues in the Statement of Profit and Loss using effective interest rate method. Dividend income is recognized when the right to receive the dividend is established.

In accordance with Ind AS 37, the Company recognizes an onerous contract provision when the unavoidable costs of meeting the obligations under a contract exceed the economic benefits to be received.

Contracts are subject to modification to account for changes in contract specification and requirements. The Company reviews modification to contract in conjunction with the original contract, basis which the transaction price could be allocated to a new performance obligation, or transaction price of an existing obligation could undergo a change. In the event transaction price is revised for existing obligation a cumulative adjustment is accounted for.

The Company disaggregates revenue from contracts with customers by geography and nature of services.

The Company exercises judgement in determining whether the performance obligation is satisfied at a point in time or over a period of time. The Company considers indicators such as how customer consumes benefits as services are rendered or who controls the asset as it is being created or existence of enforceable right to payment for performance to date and alternate use of such service, transfer of significant risks and rewards to the customer, acceptance of delivery by the customer, etc.

(d) Foreign currency

(i) Foreign currency transactions

Initial recognition

Transactions in foreign currency are translated into the reporting currency by applying to the foreign currency amount, the exchange rate prevailing on the date of the transaction. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of such transactions and from translation at the exchange rates prevailing at the reporting date, of monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are recognized in the standalone Statement of Profit and Loss and reported within foreign exchange gains/ (losses), net within results of operating activities, except when deferred in other comprehensive income as qualifying cash flow hedges.

Non-monetary assets and liabilities that are measured based on historical cost in a foreign currency are translated at the exchange rate on the date of the transaction.

(ii) Foreign operations

The assets and liabilities of foreign operations are translated into INR, the functional currency of the Company, at the exchange rates at the reporting date. The income and expenses of foreign operations are translated into INR at the exchange rates at the dates of the transactions or an average rate if the average rate approximates the actual rate at the date of the transaction.

(e) Financial instruments

i. Recognition and initial measurement

Trade receivables are initially recognized when they are originated. All other financial assets and financial liabilities are initially recognized when the Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

A financial asset or financial liability is initially measured at fair value plus, for an item not at fair value through profit and loss, transaction costs that are directly attributable to its acquisition or issue.

ii. Classification and subsequent measurement

Financial assets:

On initial recognition, a financial asset is classified as measured at amortized cost or fair value through profit and loss (FVTPL) or fair value through other comprehensive income (FVTOCI).

Financial assets are not reclassified subsequent to their initial recognition, except if and in the period the Company changes its business model for managing financial assets.

A financial asset is measured at amortized cost if it meets both of the following conditions and is not designated as at FVTPL:

- the asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets to collect contractual cash flows; and
- the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income:

Financial assets are measured at fair value through other comprehensive income if these financial assets are held within a business whose objective is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows on specified dates that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding and selling financial assets.

All financial assets not classified as measured at amortized cost or FVTOCI are measured at FVTPL. This includes all derivative financial assets.

Financial assets at FVTPL	These assets are subsequently measured at fair value. Net gains and losses, including any interest or dividend income, are recognized in Statement of Profit and Loss.
Financial assets at FVTOCI	These assets are subsequently measured at fair value. Net gains and losses, are recognized in Other Comprehensive Income
Financial assets at amortized cost	These assets are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method. The amortized cost is reduced by impairment losses, if any. Interest income, foreign exchange gains and losses and impairment are recognized in profit or loss. Any gain or loss on derecognition is recognized in Statement of Profit and Loss.

Financial liabilities:

Financial liabilities are classified as measured at amortized cost or FVTPL. A financial liability is classified as FVTPL if it is classified as held-for-trading, or it is a derivative or it is designated as such on initial recognition. Financial liabilities at FVTPL are measured at fair value and net gains and losses, including any interest expense, are recognized in profit or loss. Other financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method. Interest expense and foreign exchange gains and losses are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss. Any gain or loss on derecognition is also recognized in Statement of Profit and Loss.

iii. Derecognition

Financial assets:

The Company derecognises a financial asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire, or it transfers the rights to receive the contractual cash flows in a transaction in which substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset are transferred or in which the Company neither transfers nor retains substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership and does not retain control of the financial asset.

Financial liabilities:

The Company derecognises a financial liability when its contractual obligations are discharged or cancelled, or expired.

The Company also derecognises a financial liability when its terms are modified and the cash flows under the modified terms are substantially different. In this case, a new financial liability based on the modified terms is recognized at fair value. The difference between the carrying amount of the financial liability extinguished and the new financial liability with modified terms is recognized in Statement of Profit and Loss.

iv. Derivative financial instruments and hedge accounting

The Company is exposed to foreign exchange risk from monetary assets, liabilities and forecasted cash flows denominated in foreign currencies. The Company limits the effect of foreign exchange rate fluctuations by following established risk management policies including the use of derivatives. The Company enters into derivative financial instruments where the counterparty is a bank.

Subsequent to initial recognition, derivative financial instruments are measured as described below:

Cash flow hedges

When a derivative is designated as a cash flow hedging instrument, the effective portion of changes in the fair value of the derivative is recognized in OCI and accumulated in other equity under cash flow hedging reserve. The effective portion of changes in the fair value of the derivative that is recognized in OCI is limited to the cumulative change in fair value of the hedged item, determined on a present value basis, from inception of the hedge. Any ineffective portion of changes in the fair value of the derivative is recognized immediately in Statement of Profit and Loss.

If a hedge no longer meets the criteria for hedge accounting or the hedging instrument is sold, expires, is terminated or is exercised, then hedge accounting is discontinued prospectively. When hedge accounting for cash flow hedges is discontinued, the amount that has been accumulated in other equity remains there until, for a hedge of a transaction resulting in recognition of a non-financial item, it is included in the non-financial item's cost on its initial recognition or, for other cash flow hedges, it is reclassified to Statement of Profit and Loss in the same period or periods as the hedged expected future cash flows affect profit or loss.

(Amount ₹ in lakhs, except share and per share data, unless otherwise stated)

If the hedged future cash flows are no longer expected to occur, then the amounts that have been accumulated in other equity are immediately reclassified to Statement of profit and loss.

(f) Impairment

i. Impairment of financial assets

The Company recognizes loss allowances for expected credit losses on financial assets measured at amortized cost.

At each reporting date, the Company assesses whether financial assets carried at amortized cost are credit-impaired. A financial asset is 'credit-impaired' when one or more events that have a detrimental impact on the estimated future cash flows of the financial asset have occurred.

Evidence that a financial asset is credit-impaired includes the following observable data:

- significant financial difficulty of the borrower or issuer;
- a breach of contract such as a default or being past due for 180 days or more;
- the restructuring of a loan or advance by the Company on terms that the Company would not consider otherwise
- it is probable that the borrower will enter bankruptcy or other financial reorganization; or
- the disappearance of an active market for a security because of financial difficulties

Loss allowances for trade receivables are always measured at an amount equal to lifetime expected credit losses. Lifetime expected credit losses are the expected credit losses that result from all possible defaults over the expected life of a financial instrument.

ii. Impairment of non-financial assets

The Company's non-financial assets, other than deferred tax assets, are reviewed at each reporting date to determine whether there is any indication of impairment. If any such indication exists, then the asset's recoverable amount is estimated.

For impairment testing, assets that do not generate independent cash inflows are grouped together into cash-generating units (CGUs). Each CGU represents the smallest group of assets that generates cash inflows that are largely independent of the cash inflows of other assets or CGUs.

An impairment loss is recognized if the carrying amount of an asset or CGU exceeds its estimated recoverable amount. The recoverable amount of an asset or cash generating unit is the higher of its fair value less cost of disposal (FVLCD) and its value-in-use (VIU). The VIU of long-lived assets is calculated using projected future cash flows. FVLCD of a cash generating unit is computed using turnover and earnings multiples. Impairment losses are recognized in the statement of profit and loss. Impairment loss recognized in respect of a CGU is allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill allocated to the CGU, and then to reduce the carrying amounts of the other assets of the CGU (or Group of CGUs) on a pro rata basis.

If at the reporting date, there is an indication that a previously assessed impairment loss no longer exists, the recoverable amount is reassessed and the impairment losses previously recognized are reversed such that the asset is recognized at its recoverable amount but not exceeding written down value which would have been reported if the impairment losses had not been recognized initially.

iii. Investment in subsidiaries

Investment in subsidiaries is initially recognized at cost and subsequently at cost less impairment if any

The Company assesses at each reporting date whether there is any indication that such investments may be impaired. If any such indication exists, the Company estimates the recoverable amount of the investment. The recoverable amount of cash generating units is higher of value-in-use and fair value less costs to sell. The calculation of value in use of a cash generating unit involves use of significant estimates and assumptions which includes growth rates and net margins used to calculate projected future cash flows, risk-adjusted discount rate, future economic and market conditions. An impairment loss is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss to the extent the carrying amount exceeds the recoverable amount. An assessment is also made at each reporting date to determine whether there is any indication that previously recognised impairment losses may no longer exist or may have decreased. If such indication exists, the Company estimates the asset's recoverable amount and reverses the impairment loss to the extent that the asset's carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined (net of depreciation or amortisation) had no impairment loss been recognised previously

(g) Equity

i. Share capital

The authorized share capital of the Company as on March 31, 2026 is ₹ 5,500 lakhs i.e. 550 lakh equity shares of ₹ 10 each, par value of the equity shares is recorded as share capital. (h) Employee benefits

I) Post-employment and pension plans

The Company's employees participate in various employee benefit plans. Pensions and other post-employment benefits are classified as either defined contribution plans or defined benefit plans. Under a defined contribution plan, the Company's only obligation is to pay a fixed amount with no obligation to pay further contributions if the fund does not hold sufficient assets to pay all employee benefits. The related remeasurement and investment risks fall on the employee. The expenditure for defined contribution plans is recognized as an expense during the period when the employee renders service. Under a defined benefit plan, it is the Company's obligation to provide agreed benefits to the employees. The related remeasurement and investment risks fall on the Company. The present value of the defined benefit obligations is calculated by an independent actuary using the projected unit credit method.

All remeasurement gains or losses are immediately recognized in Other Comprehensive Income, net of taxes and permanently excluded from standalone Statement of Profit and Loss. Further, the profit or loss will not include an expected return on plan assets. Instead net interest recognized in profit or loss is calculated by applying the discount rate used to measure the defined benefit obligation to the net defined benefit liability or asset. The actual return on the plan assets above or below the discount rate is recognized as part of remeasurement of net defined liability or asset through other comprehensive income, net of taxes. The Company has the following employee benefit plans:

i. Gratuity

The Company provides for gratuity, a defined benefit plan covering all eligible employees. The plan provides a lump sum payment to eligible employees at retirement or on termination of employment based on the salary of the respective employee and the years of employment with the Company.

The Company contributes to gratuity funds maintained by third parties, such as insurance companies and mutual funds. The amount of contribution is determined based upon remeasurement valuations as at the period end using the projected unit credit method. Provision is made for the shortfall between the remeasurement valuation carried out as at balance sheet date as per projected unit credit method and the fair value of the plan assets with the third parties, such as insurance companies and mutual funds.

Remeasurements of the net defined benefit liability, which comprise remeasurement gains and losses, the return on plan assets (excluding interest) and the effect of the asset ceiling (if any, excluding interest), are recognized in OCI, net of taxes. The Company determines the net interest expense (income) on the net defined benefit liability (asset) for the period by applying the discount rate used to measure the defined benefit obligation at the beginning of the annual period to the then-net defined benefit liability (asset), taking into account any changes in the net defined benefit liability (asset) during the period as a result of contributions and benefit payments. Net interest expense and other expenses related to defined benefit plans are recognized in profit or loss.

ii. Provident fund

Employees in India are eligible to receive provident fund benefits through a defined benefit plan in which the employees and the employer make monthly contributions to the plan. A portion of the contribution is made to the approved provident fund trust managed by the Company while the remainder of the contribution is made to the Government administered pension fund. The Provident Fund Trust guarantees a specified rate of return on such contributions. The contributions made to the trust managed by the Company is accounted for as a defined benefit plan as the Company is liable for any shortfall in the Trust's assets based on the Government specified rate of return. The contributions made to the Government administered Pension Fund is accounted for as a defined contribution plan as the Company has no obligation other than to make such contributions.

iii. Pension

In case of Germany branch, pension contributions are made as per the local laws and regulations. The Company provides for these pension benefits, a defined benefit plan, covering all eligible employees. The plan provides for various pension benefits to eligible employees at retirement or on termination of employment based on earnings of the respective employee and the years of employment with the Company. The Company contributes to a reinsurance support fund maintained by an external agency. The contributions made by the employer are charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss on accrual basis. Provision is made for the shortfall between the remeasurement valuation carried out as at the year end are based on the projected unit credit method and the plan assets.

(Amount ₹ in lakhs, except share and per share data, unless otherwise stated)

For other overseas branches, social security contributions are made as per the respective local laws and regulations. The same is charged to the statement of profit and loss on an accrual basis. There are no obligations beyond the respective entity's contributions.

Remeasurements of the net defined benefit liability, which comprise remeasurement gains and losses are recognized in OCI.

II). Superannuation

The Company contributes to a superannuation scheme, a defined contribution plan maintained by an insurance Company. Such contributions are charged to the statement of profit and loss on an accrual basis. The Company has no other obligations beyond its monthly contributions.

III) Short - term employee benefits

Employee benefits payable wholly within twelve months of receiving employee services are classified as short term employee benefits. These benefits include salaries and wages, bonus and ex-gratia. The undiscounted amount of short-term employee benefits to be paid in exchange for employee services is recognized as an expense as the related service is rendered by employees.

IV) Compensated absences

The Company's employees are entitled to compensated absences. The employees can carry forward a portion of the unutilized accumulating compensated absences and utilize it in future periods or receive cash at retirement or termination of employment. The Company records an obligation for compensated absences in the period in which the employee renders the services that increases this entitlement. The Company measures the expected cost of compensated absences as the additional amount that the Company expects to pay as a result of the unused entitlement that has accumulated at the end of the reporting period. The Company recognizes accumulated compensated absences based on remeasurement valuation using the projected unit credit method. Non-accumulating compensated absences are recognized in the period in which the absences occur.

Accumulated leaves, which are expected to be utilized within the next twelve months and not eligible to be carried forward to future years, is treated as short term employee benefit. The Company measures the expected cost of such absences as the additional amount that it expects to pay as a result of the unused entitlement that has accumulated at the reporting date. These amounts are charged to the statement of profit and loss.

(i) Income taxes

Income tax comprises current and deferred tax. It is recognized in standalone Statement of Profit and Loss, except to the extent that it relates to a business combination or to an item recognized directly in equity or in Other Comprehensive Income.

i. Current tax

Current tax comprises the expected tax payable or receivable on the taxable income or loss for the year and any adjustment to the tax payable or receivable in respect of previous years. The amount of current tax reflects the best estimate of the tax amount expected to be paid or received after considering the uncertainty, if any, related to income taxes. It is measured using tax rates (and tax laws) enacted or substantively enacted by the reporting date and applicable for the period. Current tax assets and current tax liabilities are offset only if there is a legally enforceable right to set off the recognized amounts, and it is intended to realize the asset and settle the liability on a net basis or to realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

ii. Deferred tax

Deferred tax is recognized using the Balance Sheet approach in respect of temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and the corresponding amounts used for taxation purposes. Deferred tax is also recognized in respect of carried forward tax losses and tax credits. Deferred tax is not recognized for:

- Temporary differences arising on the initial recognition of assets or liabilities in a transaction that is not a business combination and that affects neither accounting nor taxable profit or loss at the time of the transaction;
- Temporary differences related to investments in subsidiaries, associates and joint arrangements to the extent that the Company is able to control the timing of the reversal of the temporary differences and it is probable that they will not reverse in the foreseeable future; and
- Taxable temporary differences arising on the initial recognition of goodwill.

(Amount ₹ in lakhs, except share and per share data, unless otherwise stated)

Deferred tax assets are recognized to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which they can be used.

Deferred tax assets, whether unrecognized or recognized, are reviewed at each reporting date and are recognized/ reduced to the extent that it is probable/ no longer probable respectively that the related tax benefit will be realized.

Deferred tax is measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply to the period when the asset is realized or the liability is settled, based on the laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the reporting date.

The measurement of deferred tax reflects the tax consequences that would follow from the manner in which the Company expects, at the reporting date, to recover or settle the carrying amount of its assets and liabilities.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset if there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax liabilities and assets, and they relate to income taxes levied by the same tax authority on the same taxable entity, or on different tax entities, but they intend to settle current tax liabilities and assets on a net basis or their tax assets and liabilities will be realized simultaneously.

(j) Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share is computed by dividing the net profit or loss for the year attributable to equity shareholders by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year. The weighted average numbers of equity shares outstanding during the year is adjusted for events of bonus issue; bonus element in a rights issue to existing shareholders; share split; and reverse share split (consolidation of shares) and buy back of shares. Shares bought back are considered to have been bought back at the beginning of the year, irrespective of the date of buy back.

For the purpose of calculating diluted earnings per share, the net profit or loss for the year attributable to equity shareholders and the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the year is adjusted for the effects of all dilutive potential equity shares, except where the results are anti-dilutive.

(k) Provisions and contingencies

A provision is recognized when the Company has a present obligation as a result of past event; it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation, in respect of which a reliable estimate can be made. Provisions are not discounted to their present value and are determined based on best estimate required to settle the obligation at the balance sheet date. These are reviewed at each balance sheet date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimates.

Provisions for onerous contracts, i.e. contracts where the expected unavoidable costs of meeting the obligations under the contract exceed the economic benefits expected to be received under it, are recognized when it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle a present obligation as a result of an obligating event, based on a best estimate of such obligation.

Where no reliable estimate can be made, a disclosure is made as contingent liability. A disclosure for a contingent liability is also made when there is a possible obligation or a present obligation that may, but probably will not, require an outflow of resources. A contingent asset is neither recognized or disclosed in the financial statements.

(l) Warranty

Provision for warranty related costs are recognized when the license is provided or service provided. Provision is based on historical experience. The estimate of such warranty related costs is revised periodically.

(m) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents in the cash flow statement comprise of cash at bank and in hand and short term investments with an original maturity value of three months or less. The cash flow statement is prepared under the indirect method.

(n) Stock compensation expense

Measurement and disclosure of the employee share-based payment plans is done in accordance with Ind AS 102 share based payments. The Company accounts for stock compensation expense based on the fair value of the options granted, determined on the date of grant. Compensation expense is amortized over the vesting period of the option on a straight-line basis. The accounting value of the options outstanding net of the deferred compensation expense is reflected as employee stock options outstanding.

(Amount ₹ in lakhs, except share and per share data, unless otherwise stated)

At the end of each reporting period, the Company revises its estimate of the number of equity instruments expected to vest. The impact of the change in estimates, if any, is recognised in the standalone statement of profit and loss statement such that the cumulative expense reflects the revised estimate, with a corresponding adjustment to the share based payments reserve in equity.

Cumulative expenses recognised pertaining to vested share options which are forfeited are transferred to General Reserve.

(o) Exceptional item

An item of income or expense is presented separately as an exceptional item when such presentation is relevant to an understanding of the Company's financial performance.

Recent Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS)

Ministry of Corporate Affairs ("MCA") notifies new standards or amendments to the existing standards under Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules as issued from time to time. On August 13, 2025 MCA has notified following amendments to the existing accounting standards:

1. Ind AS 1, Presentation of Financial Statements, applicable w.e.f. April 01, 2025 – The amendment relates to classification of liabilities as current or non-current and non-current liabilities with covenants. In the context of classifying a liability as current, it removes the requirement of existence of a right to defer settlement for at least 12 months after the reporting date and instead requires that the said right should exist on the reporting date and have substance. The amendment also introduces guidance on classification of liabilities with covenants. The Company has reviewed the amendment and based on its evaluation has determined that it does not have any significant impact in its financial statements.
2. Ind AS 7, Statement of Cash Flows and Ind AS 107, Financial Instruments: Disclosures, applicable w.e.f. April 01, 2025 – The amendment in Ind AS 7 requires to inform users of financial statements of the existence of supplier finance arrangements and explain the nature of the arrangements, the carrying amount of liabilities and the range of payment due dates. Ind AS 107 has been amended to add supplier finance arrangements as a factor that may cause concentration of liquidity risk. The Company has reviewed the amendment and based on its evaluation has determined that it does not have any significant impact in its financial statements.

New standards or amendments not yet adopted

1. Ind AS 1, Presentation of Financial Statements, applicable w.e.f. April 1, 2026 - The amendment relates to Classification of Liabilities as Current or Non-current and Non-current Liabilities with Covenants. Under the existing Ind AS 1, where there is a breach of a material provision of a long-term loan arrangement on or before the end of the reporting period with the effect that the liability becomes payable on demand on the reporting date, the entity does not classify the liability as current if the lender agreed, after the reporting period and before the approval of the financial statements for issue, not to demand payment as a consequence of the breach. However, the amended requirements stipulate that entities will no longer be permitted to consider lender waivers that are granted after the reporting date but before the financial statements are approved for the purpose of classification of loans. This amendment is required to be applied retrospectively in accordance with Ind AS 8. The Company will assess the impact, if any, on its operations or financial statements in the relevant financial year.

In assessing the realizability of deferred tax assets, the Company considers the extent to which it is probable that the deferred tax asset will be realized. The ultimate realization of deferred tax assets is dependent upon the generation of future taxable profits during the periods in which those temporary differences and tax loss carryforwards become deductible. The Company considers the expected reversal of deferred tax liabilities, projected future taxable income and tax planning strategies in making this assessment. Based on this, the Company believes that it is probable that the Company will realize the benefits of these deductible differences. The amount of deferred tax asset considered realizable, however, could be reduced in the near term if the estimates of future taxable income during the carry-forward period are reduced.

The Company has provided for income taxes at the rates provided in Section 115BAA of the Income Tax Act 1961 for the year ended March 31, 2026.

B. Financial risk management

The Company has exposure to the following risks arising from financial instruments:

- Credit risk;
- Liquidity risk; and
- Market risk

i. Risk management framework

The Company's principal financial liabilities comprise trade payables, other payables. The main purpose of these financial liabilities is to finance the Company's operations. The Company's principal financial assets include trade receivables, cash and cash equivalents and unbilled revenues that derive directly from its operations.

The Company's activities expose it to a variety of financial risks: market risk, credit risk and liquidity risk. The Company's primary focus is to foresee the unpredictability of financial markets and seek to minimize potential adverse effects on its financial performance. The primary market risk for the Company pertains to investing activities. The Company's exposure to credit risk is influenced mainly by the individual characteristic of customers and counterparties to derivative instruments such as banks.

ii. Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk of financial loss to the Company if a customer or counterparty to a financial instrument fails to meet its contractual obligations, and arises principally from the Company's receivables from customers and investments in debt securities.

Credit risk refers to the risk of default on its obligation by the counterparty resulting in a financial loss. The maximum exposure to the credit risk at the reporting date is primarily from trade receivables amounting to ₹ 12,346.71 lakhs and ₹ 9,295.32 lakhs as of March 31, 2026 and March 31, 2025, respectively and unbilled revenues amounting to ₹ 3,553.16 lakhs and ₹ 2,721.47 lakhs as of March 31, 2026 and March 31, 2025 respectively. Credit risk has always been managed by the Company through credit approvals, establishing credit limits and continuously monitoring the creditworthiness of customers to which the Company grants credit terms in the normal course of business. As per Ind AS 109, the Company uses expected credit loss model to assess the impairment losses. The Company uses a provision matrix to compute the expected credit loss allowance for trade receivables and unbilled revenues. As per the provision matrix, there are no credit losses to be recognised for the year ended March 31, 2026 and year ended March 31, 2025.

The following table gives details in respect of percentage of revenues generated from top two customer and top ten customers:

Particulars	For the Year ended March 31, 2026	For the Year ended March 31, 2025
Revenue from top 2 customers	20.78%	17.15%
Revenue from top 10 customers	61.18%	60.33%

The carrying amount of the following financial assets represents the maximum credit exposure:

Trade receivables

The Company's exposure to credit risk is influenced mainly by the individual characteristics of each customer. However, management also considers the factors that may influence the credit risk of its customer base, including the default risk of the industry and country in which customers operate.

Credit risk arises from the possibility that customers may not be able to settle their obligations as agreed. The Company establishes an allowance for impairment that best represents its estimate of expected losses in respect of trade receivables. The Company has established a credit policy under which each new customer is analyzed individually for credit worthiness before the standard payment and delivery terms and conditions are offered. The balance outstanding of trade receivable overdue for more than 180 days as at March 31, 2026 is ₹ 155.59 lakhs (March 31, 2025 : ₹ 16.13 lakhs).

Cash and bank balances

The Company held cash and bank balances of ₹ 1,657.36 lakhs at March 31, 2026 (March 31, 2025: ₹ 1,456.02 lakhs).

Derivatives

The derivatives are entered with banks being counterparty.

(Amount ₹ in lakhs, except share and per share data, unless otherwise stated)

iii. Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will encounter difficulties in meeting the obligations associated with its financial liabilities that are settled by delivering cash or another financial asset. The Company's approach to managing liquidity is to ensure, as far as possible, that it will have sufficient liquidity to meet its liabilities when they are due, under both normal and stressed conditions, without incurring unacceptable losses or risking damage to the Company's reputation.

The Company's principal sources of liquidity are cash and cash equivalents and the cash flow that is generated from operations. The Company has no outstanding bank borrowings. The Company believes that the working capital is sufficient to meet its current requirements. Accordingly, no liquidity risk is perceived.

Market risk is attributable to all market risk sensitive financial instruments including foreign currency receivables and payables. We have audited the accompanying consolidated financial statements of Sasken Technologies Limited (hereinafter referred to as the "Holding Company") and its subsidiaries (Holding Company and its subsidiaries together referred to as "the Group"), which comprise the Consolidated Balance Sheet as at March 31, 2026, and the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss including Other Comprehensive Income, the Consolidated Statement of Changes in Equity and the Consolidated Statement of Cash Flows for the year then ended, and notes to the consolidated financial statements, including material accounting policy information and other explanatory information (hereinafter referred to as "the consolidated financial statements").

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2026. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters. We have determined the matters described below to be the key audit matters to be communicated in our report:

Sr. No.	Key Audit Matters	How the Key Audit Matters was addressed in our audit
1	Revenue Recognition from Fixed Price Contracts (Refer Note 3(e) to the Consolidated Financial Statements) Revenue from fixed price contracts is recognized using percentage of completion method ("POC") as per the input method prescribed under Ind AS 115 - Revenue from contracts with customers ("Ind AS 115") where performance obligations are satisfied over time. The POC method involves computation of actual cost incurred till date and estimation of total future cost to be incurred towards remaining performance obligations over the life of the project, which involves following factors requiring significant auditor attention: i. There is an inherent estimation uncertainty relating to determination of the progress of each contract, cost incurred till date and future cost to complete the remaining performance obligation on the contract, given the customized nature of the contracts. ii. The estimation of total cost to complete the contract involves significant judgement throughout the period of contract and is subject to revision as the contract progresses based on latest available information and also involves critical estimates to make provision for onerous contract	Our audit procedures related to estimation of total cost to complete the contract for fixed price contracts included but not limited to following: i. Obtained an understanding of the systems, processes and controls implemented by management for recording and computing revenue and associated contract assets and contract liabilities. ii. Verified the design, implementation and operating effectiveness of the internal financial controls implemented by the Group with respect to estimation of future cost to completion, estimation of provision for onerous contract, measurement of contract assets, contract liabilities, total contract revenue on its completion, approval and recording of revenue on a test check basis. iii. Internal Information Technology (IT) specialists were involved to verify the design and operating effectiveness of key application controls relating to revenue recognition which included testing of automated controls, system generated reports and system reconciliations. iv. We performed below substantive audit procedures on a test check basis for fixed price contract: - a. Verified the contractual terms to identify the performance obligation and assessed the basis of revenue recognition in accordance with Ind AS 115;

Independent Auditor's Report (Contd.)

Sr. No.	Key Audit Matters	How the Key Audit Matters was addressed in our audit
	iii. At year end a significant amount of contract assets and contract liabilities related to each contract is to be identified which involve significant judgement and estimation. In view of above, the above matter has been identified as a key audit matter.	b. Compared the status of delivery of the milestones and customer acceptances with the agreed timelines as per the contract to identify possible delays in achieving the milestones which require changes in estimated cost to complete the contract. c. Performed inquiries with delivery / project managers to corroborate the status of contracts; d. Carried out a retrospective assessment of costs incurred with estimated costs to identify any significant variation and verified whether those variations have been considered in estimating the remaining costs to complete the contract. e. Verified that the revenue in foreign currency is recognized applying the spot exchange rate between the functional currency and the foreign currency at the date of the transaction. f. Verified the mathematical accuracy of the calculation of revenue using the ratio of actual costs incurred to estimated costs; g. Verified the accuracy of the actual cost incurred in respect of fixed price contracts; h. Assessed the appropriateness of contract assets on Balance Sheet date by evaluating the underlying documentation to identify possible changes in estimated costs to complete the remaining performance obligations; and i. Inspected underlying documents to determine reasonableness of contract costs. v. On the basis of above procedures, verified that adequate provision has been accounted for in respect of onerous contracts. vi. Verified that adequate disclosure has been made in respect of revenue from contracts with customers, contract assets and contract liabilities in compliance with the requirements of Ind AS 115 - 'Revenue from contracts with customer'.
2	Evaluation of uncertain tax positions (Direct Tax and Indirect Tax) Refer Note 38 to the consolidated Financial Statements The Group has ongoing litigations with respect to Direct tax and Indirect tax at various levels. There are significant matters of interpretation in terms of application of tax laws and rules to determine current and deferred taxes. The Group tax positions are challenged by the tax authorities on a range of tax matters including indirect tax matters. This requires the Management to make significant judgements and evaluations of the outcome of uncertain tax positions that are currently in litigation before various tax authorities and thus it may significantly impact the recognition of liabilities and contingent liability related disclosure as per requirements of 'Ind AS 37 - Provisions, Contingent Liabilities, and Contingent Assets'.	Our audit procedures related to evaluation of uncertain tax positions included but not limited to following: i. Obtained a detailed understanding of the management's process for determining statutory liabilities, provisions and contingent liabilities pertaining to tax claims and disputes. ii. Verified the design, implementation, and operating effectiveness of key internal financial controls over review and approval of accounting of uncertain tax positions and related disclosures in the Consolidated Financial Statements. iii. Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under Section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Holding Company has adequate internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Management and Board of Directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the Management and Board of Directors use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the ability of the Group and to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group and to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group and its associates and to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audit of the financial statements of such entities included in the consolidated financial statements of which we are the independent auditors. For the other entities or business activities included in the consolidated financial statements, which have been audited by other auditors, such other auditors remain responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audits carried out by them. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance of the Holding Company and such other entities included in the consolidated financial statements of which we are the independent auditors regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

A company's internal financial control with reference to consolidated financial statements is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of consolidated financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control with reference to consolidated financial statements includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of consolidated financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the consolidated financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls with Reference to Consolidated Financial Statements

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control with reference to consolidated financial statements may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Items included in the consolidated financial statements of each of the Company's subsidiaries are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which these subsidiaries operate (i.e. the "functional currency"). These consolidated financial statements are presented in Indian Rupees (₹), which is also the Company's functional currency. All amounts included in these consolidated financial statements are reported in INR (Amount in ₹ lakhs), except share and per share data, unless otherwise stated.

B. Basis of measurement

These consolidated financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost convention and on an accrual basis of accounting except for the following material items which have been measured at fair value as required by relevant Ind AS.

Items	Measurement basis
Derivative financial instruments	Fair value
Investments classified as fair value through profit and loss	Fair value
Investments classified as fair value through other comprehensive income	Fair value
Net defined benefit asset / liability	Fair value of plan assets less present value of defined benefit obligations
Contingent Consideration	Fair value
Share based payment option	Fair value

C. Use of estimates and judgments

In preparing these consolidated financial statements, management has made judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized prospectively.

(Amount ₹ in lakhs, except share and per share data, unless otherwise stated)

Assumptions and estimation uncertainties

Information about significant areas of estimation, uncertainty and critical judgments in applying accounting policies that have a significant effect on the amounts recognized in these consolidated financial statements are included in the following notes:

a) Revenue recognition:

The Group assesses the services promised in a contract and identifies distinct performance obligations in the contract. Identification of distinct performance obligations and the ability of the customer to benefit independently from such obligations, and allocation of transaction price to these distinct performance obligations involves significant judgement. The Group exercises judgement in determining whether the performance obligation is satisfied at a point in time or over a period of time.

The Group uses the percentage of completion i.e. input (cost expended) method to measure progress towards completion in respect of fixed price contracts. Percentage of completion method accounting relies on estimates of total expected contract revenue and costs. This method is followed when reasonably dependable estimates of the revenues and costs applicable to various elements of the contract can be made. Key factors that are reviewed in estimating the future costs to complete include estimates of future labour costs and productivity efficiencies. Because the financial reporting of these contracts depends on estimates that are assessed continually during the term of these contracts, recognized revenue and profit are subject to revisions as the contract progresses to completion. When estimates indicate that a loss will be incurred, the loss is provided for in the period in which the loss becomes probable.

b) Income taxes:

Significant judgments are involved in determining the provision for income taxes including judgment on whether tax positions are probable of being sustained in tax assessments. A tax assessment can involve complex issues, which can only be resolved over extended time periods.

c) Deferred taxes:

A deferred tax asset is recognised to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences and tax losses can be utilised. Accordingly, the Company exercises its judgement to reassess the carrying amount of deferred tax assets at the end of each reporting period.

d) Defined benefit plans and compensated absences:

The cost of the defined benefit plans, compensated absences and the present value of the defined benefit obligation are based on actuarial valuation using the projected unit credit method. An actuarial valuation involves making various assumptions that may differ from actual developments in the future. These include the determination of the discount rate, future salary increases, mortality rates and fair value of plan assets. Due to the complexities involved in the valuation and its long-term nature, a defined benefit obligation is highly sensitive to changes in these assumptions. All assumptions are reviewed at each reporting date.

e) Business combinations and intangible assets:

Business combinations are accounted for using Ind AS 103, Business Combinations. Ind AS 103 requires to fair value identifiable intangible assets and contingent consideration to ascertain the net fair value of identifiable assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities of the acquiree. Estimates are required to be made in determining the value of contingent consideration and intangible assets. These measurements are based on information available at the acquisition date and are based on expectations and assumptions that have been deemed reasonable by the Management.

f) Impairment on goodwill and non financial assets:

Goodwill is tested for impairment at least annually and when events occur or changes in circumstances indicate that the recoverable amount of the cash generating units to which it pertains is less than its carrying value. The recoverable amount of cash generating units is higher of value-in-use and fair value less costs to sell. The calculation of value in use of a cash generating unit involves use of significant estimates and assumptions which include growth rates and net margins used to calculate projected future cash flows, risk-adjusted discount rate, future economic and market conditions.

The Group's non-financial assets, other than deferred tax assets, are reviewed at each reporting date to determine whether there is any indication of impairment. If any such indication exists, then the asset's recoverable amount is estimated. The calculation of recoverable value involves use of significant estimates and assumptions which include growth rates and net margins used to calculate projected future cash flows, risk-adjusted discount rate, future economic and market conditions.

(Amount ₹ in lakhs, except share and per share data, unless otherwise stated)

g) Property, plant and equipment & Intangibles:

The Group reviews the useful life of property, plant and equipment and intangibles at the end of each reporting period.

h) Fair value measurement of financial instruments:

When the fair value of financial assets and financial liabilities recorded in the balance sheet cannot be measured based on quoted prices in active markets, their fair value is measured using valuation techniques. The inputs to these models are taken from observable markets where possible, but where this is not feasible, a degree of judgement is required in establishing fair values. Judgements include considerations of inputs such as liquidity risk, credit risk and volatility. Changes in assumptions about these factors could affect the reported fair value of financial instruments.

i) Leases:

The Group evaluates if an arrangement qualifies to be a lease as per the requirements of Ind AS 116. Identification of a lease requires significant judgement. The Group uses significant judgement in assessing the lease term (including anticipated renewals) and the applicable discount rate. The Group determines the lease term as the non-cancellable period of a lease, together with both periods covered by an option to extend the lease if the Group is reasonably certain to exercise that option; and periods covered by an option to terminate the lease if the Group is reasonably certain not to exercise that option. The discount rate is generally based on the incremental borrowing rate specific to the lease being evaluated or for a portfolio of leases with similar characteristics.

j) Provisions and contingent liabilities:

The Group estimates the provisions that have present obligations as a result of past events and it is probable that outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligations. These provisions are reviewed at the end of each reporting period and are adjusted to reflect the current best estimates. The Group uses significant judgements to assess contingent liabilities. Contingent liabilities are disclosed when there is a possible obligation arising from past events, the existence of which will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the Group or a present obligation that arises from past events where it is either not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation or a reliable estimate of the amount cannot be made. Contingent assets are neither recognised nor disclosed in the consolidated financial statements.

k) Share based payments:

The Group estimates the likelihood of the non-market performance conditions being met to determine the number of equity instruments that will ultimately vest.

l) Inventories:

The Group considers factors like product discontinuances and ageing of inventory in determining the provision for slow moving, obsolete and other non-saleable inventory and adjusts the inventory provisions to reflect the recoverable value of inventory.

m) Hedge instruments:

Fair valuation of derivative hedging instruments designated as cash flow hedges involves significant estimates relating to the occurrence of the highly probable cash flow forecast transactions.

D. Measurement of fair values :

Some of the Group's accounting policies and disclosures require measurement of fair values, for financial assets and liabilities and non-financial assets and liabilities.

Fair values are categorized into different levels in a fair value hierarchy based on the inputs used in the valuation techniques as follows:

Level 1: quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;

Level 2: inputs other than quoted prices included in Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices); or Level 3: inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs).

When measuring the fair value of an asset or a liability, the Group uses observable market data as far as possible. If the inputs used to measure the fair value of an asset or a liability fall into different levels of the fair value hierarchy, then the fair value measurement is categorized in its entirety in the same level of the fair value hierarchy as the lowest level input that is significant to the entire measurement.

(Amount ₹ in lakhs, except share and per share data, unless otherwise stated)

The Group recognizes transfers between levels of the fair value hierarchy at the end of the reporting period during which the change has occurred.

3. Summary of material accounting policies

(a) Basis of consolidation

Subsidiaries

The Company determines the basis of control in line with the requirements of Ind AS 110, Consolidated Financial Statements. Subsidiaries are entities controlled by the Company. The Company controls an entity when it is exposed to, or has rights to, variable returns from its involvement with the entity and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the entity. The financial statements of subsidiaries and controlled trusts are included in the consolidated financial statements from the date on which control commences until the date on which control ceases. The financial statements of all Group entities are prepared using uniform accounting policies and for the same reporting period as that of the Company. The financial statements of the Group entities are consolidated on a line-by-line basis by adding together like items of assets, liabilities, income, and expenses. Intra-group balances, transactions, and unrealised profits or losses arising from intra-group transactions are eliminated in full. The results of subsidiaries acquired or disposed of during the year are included in the consolidated financial statements from the date of acquisition or up to the date of disposal, as appropriate. All intra-Group balances, transactions, income and expenses are eliminated in full on consolidation.

Non-controlling interests in the net assets of consolidated subsidiaries are presented separately within equity. The share of profit or loss attributable to non-controlling interests is also presented separately in the consolidated statement of profit and loss.

(b) Business combinations and goodwill

Business combinations involving entities that are controlled by the Group (common control transactions) are accounted for using the pooling of interests method as follows:

- The assets and liabilities of the combining entities are reflected at their carrying amounts;
- The financial information in the financial statements in respect of prior periods is restated with effect from the appointed date as per the approval obtained from the requisite authorities.
- The assets and liabilities acquired are recognized at their carrying amounts. The identity of the reserves is preserved and they appear in the consolidated financial statements of the Group in the same form in which they appeared in the financial statements of the acquired entity;
- The difference, if any, between the consideration and the amount of share capital of the acquired entity is transferred to capital reserve.

Business combinations for transactions other than the common control transactions are accounted for using the acquisition method. The cost of an acquisition is measured as the fair value of the assets transferred, liabilities incurred or assumed and equity instruments issued at the date of exchange by the Company. Identifiable assets acquired and liabilities and contingent liabilities assumed in a business combination are measured initially at fair value at the date of acquisition. Transaction costs incurred in connection with a business acquisition are expensed as incurred.

The cost of an acquisition also includes the fair value of any contingent consideration measured as at the date of acquisition. Any subsequent changes to the fair value of contingent consideration classified as liabilities, other than measurement period adjustments, are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

The interest of non-controlling shareholders is initially measured at fair value as on the acquisition date. Subsequent to acquisition, the carrying amount of non-controlling interest is the amount of those interests at initial recognition plus the non-controlling interest's share of subsequent changes in equity. Total comprehensive income is attributed to non-controlling interests even if it results in the non-controlling interest having a deficit balance.

Goodwill represents the excess of the cost of an acquisition over the fair value of the Company's share of the net identifiable assets of the acquired subsidiary at the date of acquisition. Goodwill is measured at cost less accumulated impairment losses. Goodwill is allocated to the cash-generating units (CGU) expected to benefit from the synergies of the combination for the purpose of impairment testing. A CGU is the smallest identifiable group of assets that generates cash inflows that are largely independent of the cash inflows from other assets or group of assets.

(Amount ₹ in lakhs, except share and per share data, unless otherwise stated)

(c) Property, plant and equipment (including intangible assets)

i. Recognition and measurement

Items of property, plant and equipment are measured at cost less accumulated depreciation / amortization and accumulated impairment losses, if any.

Cost of an item of property, plant and equipment comprises its purchase price, including import duties and non-refundable purchase taxes, after deducting trade discounts and rebates, any directly attributable cost of bringing the item to its working condition for its intended use and estimated costs of dismantling and removing the item and restoring the site on which it is located.

If significant parts of an item of property, plant and equipment have different useful lives, then they are accounted for as separate items (major components) of property, plant and equipment.

The cost of property, plant and equipment not available for use as at each reporting date is disclosed under capital work-in-progress.

Any gain or loss on disposal of an item of property, plant and equipment is recognized in the Statement Profit and Loss.

ii. Subsequent expenditure

Subsequent expenditure is capitalized only if it is probable that the incremental future economic benefits associated with the expenditure will flow to the Group.

iii. Depreciation and amortization

Based on an independent assessment, Management has estimated the useful lives of the following classes of assets, which are lower than or equal to those indicated in Schedule II of the Act. Management believes this best represents the period over which they expect to use these assets. Depreciation is provided using the straight line method (SLM), over the estimated useful life of the asset, as follows:

Asset block	Estimated useful life	Useful life as per Schedule II
Buildings	20	60
Computers	3	3
Electrical fittings	5	10
Furniture and fixtures	10	10
Office equipment	5	5
Vehicles	5	8
Plant and equipment	5	15

Leasehold improvements are amortized over the shorter of estimated useful life of the assets or the related lease term. Freehold land is not depreciated.

Assets with unit value of ₹ 5,000 or less are depreciated entirely in the year of acquisition.

Intangible assets

Intangible assets are stated at cost less accumulated amortization and impairment. Intangible assets are amortized over their respective estimated useful lives on a straight-line basis, from the date that they are available for use. The estimated useful life of an identifiable intangible asset is based on a number of factors including the effects of obsolescence, demand, competition and other economic factors (such as the stability of the industry and known technological advances) and the level of maintenance expenditures required to obtain the expected future cash flows from the asset.

Asset block	Estimated useful life
Computer software	3-5 years
Intellectual property	3-6 years
Contract rights	2-5 years
Rights under licensing arrangements	5 years
Customer related intangibles	2-8 years

(Amount ₹ in lakhs, except share and per share data, unless otherwise stated)

(d) Leases

The Group assesses whether a contract contains a lease, at inception of a contract. A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration. To assess whether a contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset, the Company assesses whether: (i) the contract involves the use of an identified asset; (ii) the Company has substantially all of the economic benefits from use of the asset through the period of the lease; and (iii) the Company has the right to direct the use of the asset.

Group as a lessee

The Group accounts for each lease component within the contract as a lease separately from non-lease components of the contract and allocates the consideration in the contract to each lease component on the basis of the relative stand-alone price of the lease component and the aggregate stand-alone price of the non-lease components.

The Group measures the lease liability at the present value of the remaining lease payments, discounted using the incremental borrowing rate at the date of initial application. The lease liability is subsequently remeasured by increasing the carrying amount to reflect interest on the lease liability, reducing the carrying amount to reflect the lease payments made and remeasuring the carrying amount to reflect any reassessment or lease modifications or to reflect revised in-substance fixed lease payments.

The Group measures the right-of-use asset at an amount equal to the lease liability, adjusted by the amount of any prepaid or accrued lease payments relating to that lease recognized in the balance sheet immediately before the date of initial application. The right-of-use assets is depreciated using the straight-line method from the date of initial application over the shorter of lease term or useful life of right-of-use asset. The estimated useful lives of right-of-use assets are determined on the same basis as those of property, plant and equipment. Right-of-use assets are tested for impairment whenever there is any indication that their carrying amounts may not be recoverable. Impairment loss, if any, is recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

The Group has elected not to apply the requirements of Ind AS 116 to short-term leases of all assets that have a lease term of 12 months or less and leases for which the underlying asset is of low value. The lease payments associated with these leases are recognized as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

(e) Revenue

The Group derives revenues from rendering of software services including maintenance services and product solutions which includes design, development and manufacturing of products.

Revenue is recognized upon transfer of control of promised services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration which the Group expects to receive in exchange for those services.

i. Time and material contracts

Revenue and costs relating to time and material contracts are recognized as and when the services are rendered.

ii. Fixed-price contracts

Revenue from fixed price service contracts and customized technology developments is recognized based on the percentage of completion method (POC) of accounting with contract cost incurred determining the degree of completion of the performance obligation. Revenue from maintenance contracts is recognized ratably over the term of the maintenance arrangement.

The solutions offered by the Group may include supply of third-party software. In such cases, revenue for supply of such third party software are recorded at gross or net basis depending on whether the Group is acting as the principal or as an agent of the customer. The Group recognizes revenue in the gross amount of consideration when it is acting as a principal and at net amount of consideration when it is acting as an agent.

iii. Sale of Products

Revenue from the sale of products is recognised when the control of the goods has been transferred to the customer. The performance obligation in case of sale of product is satisfied at a point in time i.e., when the material is shipped to the customer or on delivery to the customer, as may be specified in the contract.

iv. Others

Revenue from royalty is recognized when the later of the following events occurs;

- a) the subsequent sale or usage occurs; or

(Amount ₹ in lakhs, except share and per share data, unless otherwise stated)

- b) the performance obligation to which some or all of the sales-based or usage-based royalty has been allocated has been satisfied (or partially satisfied).

Revenue is measured based on the transaction price, which is the consideration, adjusted for volume discounts, service level credits, performance bonuses, price concessions and incentives, if any, specified in the contract with the customer. Revenue also excludes taxes collected from customers.

Contract assets are recognized when there is excess of revenue earned over billings on contracts. Contract assets are classified as unbilled receivables (only act of invoicing is pending) when there is unconditional right to receive cash, and only passage of time is required, as per contractual terms.

Deferred revenue ("contract liability") is recognized when there is billings in excess of revenues. Advances received for services are reported as liabilities until all conditions for revenue recognition are met.

Interest income is recognized as it accrues in the Statement of Profit and Loss using effective interest rate method. Dividend income is recognized when the right to receive the dividend is established.

In accordance with Ind AS 37, the Group recognizes an onerous contract provision when the unavoidable costs of meeting the obligations under a contract exceed the economic benefits to be received.

Contracts are subject to modification to account for changes in contract specification and requirements. The Group reviews modification to contract in conjunction with the original contract, basis which the transaction price could be allocated to a new performance obligation, or transaction price of an existing obligation could undergo a change. In the event transaction price is revised for existing obligation a cumulative adjustment is accounted for.

The Group disaggregates revenue from contracts with customers by geography and nature of services.

Use of significant judgements in revenue recognition:

The Group's contracts with customers include promises to transfer services to a customer. The Group assesses the services promised in a contract and identifies distinct performance obligations in the contract. Identification of distinct performance obligation involves judgement to determine the deliverables and the ability of the customer to benefit independently from such deliverables.

Judgement is also required to determine the transaction price for the contract. The transaction price could be either a fixed amount of customer consideration or variable consideration with elements such as volume discounts, service level credits, performance bonuses, price concessions and incentives. The transaction price is also adjusted for the effects of the time value of money if the contract includes a significant financing component. Any consideration payable to the customer is adjusted to the transaction price, unless it is a payment for a service from the customer. The estimated amount of variable consideration is adjusted in the transaction price only to the extent that it is highly probable that a significant reversal in the amount of cumulative revenue recognized will not occur and is reassessed at the end of each reporting period. The Group allocates the elements of variable considerations to all the performance obligations of the contract unless there is observable evidence that they pertain to one or more distinct performance obligations.

The Group uses judgement to determine an appropriate standalone selling price for a performance obligation. The Group allocates the transaction price to each performance obligation on the basis of the relative stand-alone selling price of each distinct service promised in the contract.

The Group exercises judgement in determining whether the performance obligation is satisfied at a point in time or over a period of time. The Group considers indicators such as how customer consumes benefits as services are rendered or who controls the asset as it is being created or existence of enforceable right to payment for performance to date and alternate use of such service, transfer of significant risks and rewards to the customer, acceptance of delivery by the customer, etc.

(f) Inventories

Inventories are initially recognised at cost and subsequently measured at the lower of cost and the net realizable value. Cost of inventory is determined on First in first out basis.

Cost of raw materials and stores and spares includes cost of purchase and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. The aforesaid items are valued at net realisable value if the finished products in which they are to be incorporated are expected to be sold at a loss.

Cost of finished goods and work-in-progress include all costs of purchases, conversion costs, appropriate share of fixed production overheads and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. The net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less the estimated costs of completion and estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

(Amount ₹ in lakhs, except share and per share data, unless otherwise stated)

(g) Foreign currency

Foreign currency transactions

(i) Initial recognition

Transactions in foreign currency are translated into the reporting currency by applying to the foreign currency amount, the exchange rate prevailing on the date of the transaction. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of such transactions and from translation at the exchange rates prevailing at the reporting date, of monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss and reported within foreign exchange gains / (losses), net within results of operating activities, except when deferred in Other Comprehensive Income as qualifying cash flow hedges.

Non-monetary assets and liabilities that are measured based on historical cost in a foreign currency are translated on the exchange rate at the date of the transaction.

(ii) Foreign operations

For the purpose of presenting these consolidated financial statements, the assets and liabilities of the Group foreign operations that have a functional currency other than Indian rupees are translated into Indian rupees using exchange rates prevailing at the reporting date. Income and expense items are translated at the average exchange rates for the period. Exchange differences arising, if any, are recognized in Other Comprehensive Income and held in foreign currency translation reserve (FCTR), a component of equity. When a foreign operation is disposed, the relevant amount recognized in FCTR is transferred to the Statement of Profit and Loss as part of the profit/gain or loss on disposal.

(h) Financial instruments

i. Recognition and initial measurement

Trade receivables are initially recognized when they are originated. All other financial assets and financial liabilities are initially recognized when the Group becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

A financial asset or financial liability is initially measured at fair value plus, for an item not at fair value through Profit and Loss (FVTPL), transaction costs that are directly attributable to its acquisition or issue.

ii. Classification and subsequent measurement

Financial assets:

On initial recognition, a financial asset is classified as measured at amortized cost or fair value through Profit and Loss (FVTPL) or fair value through Other Comprehensive Income (FVTOCI).

Financial assets are not reclassified subsequent to their initial recognition, except if and in the period the Group changes its business model for managing financial assets.

A financial asset is measured at amortized cost if it meets both of the following conditions and is not designated as at FVTPL:

- the asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets to collect contractual cash flows; and
- the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income

Financial assets are measured at fair value through other comprehensive income if these financial assets are held within a business whose objective is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows on specified dates that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding and selling financial assets.

(Amount ₹ in lakhs, except share and per share data, unless otherwise stated)

All financial assets not classified as measured at amortized cost or FVTOCI are measured at FVTPL. This includes all derivative financial assets.

Financial assets at FVTPL	These assets are subsequently measured at fair value. Net gains and losses, including any interest or dividend income, are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss. However, see Note 3(g)(iv) for derivatives designated as hedging instruments.
Financial assets at amortized cost	These assets are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method. The amortized cost is reduced by impairment losses, if any. Interest income, foreign exchange gains and losses and impairment are recognized in profit or loss. Any gain or loss on derecognition is recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.
Financial assets at OCI	These assets are subsequently measured at fair value. Dividends are recognized as income in Statement of Profit and Loss unless the dividend clearly represents a recovery of part of the cost of the investment. Other net gains and losses are recognized in OCI and are not reclassified to the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Financial liabilities

Financial liabilities are classified as measured at amortized cost or FVTPL. A financial liability is classified as FVTPL if it is classified as held-for-trading, or it is a derivative or it is designated as such on initial recognition. Financial liabilities at FVTPL are measured at fair value and net gains and losses, including any interest expense, are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss. Other financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method. Interest expense and foreign exchange gains and losses are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss. Any gain or loss on derecognition is also recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

iii. Derecognition

Financial assets:

The Group derecognizes a financial asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire, or it transfers the rights to receive the contractual cash flows in a transaction in which substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset are transferred or in which the Group neither transfers nor retains substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership and does not retain control of the financial asset.

Financial liabilities:

The Group derecognizes a financial liability when its contractual obligations are discharged or cancelled, or expire.

The Group also derecognizes a financial liability when its terms are modified and the cash flows under the modified terms are substantially different. In this case, a new financial liability based on the modified terms is recognized at fair value. The difference between the carrying amount of the financial liability extinguished and the new financial liability with modified terms is recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

iv. Derivative financial instruments and hedge accounting

The Group is exposed to foreign exchange risk from monetary assets, liabilities and forecasted cash flows denominated in foreign currencies. The Group limits the effect of foreign exchange rate fluctuations by following established risk management policies including the use of derivatives. The Group enters into derivative financial instruments where the counterparty is a bank.

Derivatives are initially measured at fair value. Attributable transaction costs are recognized in Statement of Profit and Loss as cost.

Subsequent to initial recognition, derivative financial instruments are measured as described below:

Cash flow hedges

When a derivative is designated as a cash flow hedging instrument, the effective portion of changes in the fair value of the derivative is recognized in OCI and accumulated in 'other equity' under cash flow hedging reserve. The effective portion of changes in the fair value of the derivative that is recognized in OCI is limited to the cumulative change in fair value of the hedged item, determined on a present value basis, from inception of the hedge. Any ineffective portion of changes in the fair value of the derivative is recognized immediately in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

If a hedge no longer meets the criteria for hedge accounting or the hedging instrument is sold, expires, is terminated or is exercised, then hedge accounting is discontinued prospectively. When hedge accounting for cash flow hedges is discontinued, the amount that has been accumulated in other equity remains there until, for a hedge of a transaction resulting in recognition of a non-financial item, it is included in the non-financial item's cost on its initial recognition or, for other cash flow hedges, it is reclassified to the Statement of Profit and Loss in the same period or periods as the hedged expected future cash flows affect the Statement of Profit and Loss.

(Amount ₹ in lakhs, except share and per share data, unless otherwise stated)

If the hedged future cash flows are no longer expected to occur, then the amounts that have been accumulated in other equity are immediately reclassified to the Statement of Profit and Loss.

(i) Impairment

i. Impairment of financial asset

The Group recognizes loss allowances for expected credit losses on financial assets measured at amortized cost.

At each reporting date, the Group assesses whether financial assets carried at amortized cost are credit-impaired. A financial asset is 'credit-impaired' when one or more events that have a detrimental impact on the estimated future cash flows of the financial asset have occurred.

Evidence that a financial asset is credit-impaired includes the following observable data:

- significant financial difficulty of the borrower or issuer;
- a breach of contract such as a default or being past due for 180 days or more;
- the restructuring of a loan or advance by the Group on terms that the Group would not consider otherwise;
- it is probable that the borrower will enter bankruptcy or other financial reorganization; or
- the disappearance of an active market for a security because of financial difficulties.

Loss allowances for trade receivables are always measured at an amount equal to lifetime expected credit losses. Lifetime expected credit losses are the expected credit losses that result from all possible defaults over the expected life of a financial instrument.

ii. Impairment of non-financial assets

The Group's non-financial assets, other than deferred tax assets, are reviewed at each reporting date to determine whether there is any indication of impairment. If any such indication exists, then the asset's recoverable amount is estimated.

For impairment testing, assets that do not generate independent cash inflows are grouped together into cash-generating units (CGUs). Each CGU represents the smallest group of assets that generates cash inflows that are largely independent of the cash inflows of other assets or CGUs.

An impairment loss is recognized if the carrying amount of an asset or CGU exceeds its estimated recoverable amount. The recoverable amount of an asset or CGU is the higher of its fair value less cost of disposal (FVLCD) and its value-in-use (VIU). The VIU of long-lived assets is calculated using projected future cash flows. FVLCD of a CGU is computed using turnover and earnings multiples. Impairment losses are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss. Impairment loss recognized in respect of a CGU is allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill allocated to the CGU, and then to reduce the carrying amounts of the other assets of the CGU (or group of CGUs) on a pro rata basis.

If at the reporting date, there is an indication that a previously assessed impairment loss no longer exists, the recoverable amount is reassessed and the impairment losses previously recognized are reversed such that the asset is recognized at its recoverable amount but not exceeding written down value which would have been reported if the impairment losses had not been recognized initially.

iii. Impairment of goodwill

Goodwill is tested for impairment at least annually and when events occur or changes in circumstances indicate that the recoverable amount of the CGU to which it pertains is less than its carrying value. The recoverable amount of CGU is higher of VIU and fair value less costs to sell. The calculation of VIU of a CGU involves use of significant estimates and assumptions which include growth rates and net margins used to calculate projected future cash flows, risk-adjusted discount rate, future economic and market conditions.

(j) Equity

i. Share capital

The authorized share capital of the Company as of March 31, 2026 and March 31, 2025 is ₹ 5,500 lakhs i.e. 550 lakh equity shares of ₹ 10 each. Par value of the equity shares is recorded as share capital.

Every holder of the equity shares, as reflected in the records of the Company as of the date of the shareholder's meeting shall have one vote in respect of each share held for all matters submitted to vote in the shareholder's meeting.

(Amount ₹ in lakhs, except share and per share data, unless otherwise stated)

ii. Capital reserve

(k) Employee benefits

a) Post-employment and pension plans

The Group's employees participate in various employee benefit plans. Pensions and other post-employment benefits are classified as either defined contribution plans or defined benefit plans. Under a defined contribution plan, the Group's only obligation is to pay a fixed amount with no obligation to pay further contributions if the fund does not hold sufficient assets to pay all employee benefits. The related remeasurement and investment risks fall on the employee. The expenditure for defined contribution plans is recognized as an expense during the period when the employee renders service. Under a defined benefit plan, it is the Group's obligation to provide agreed benefits to the employees. The related remeasurement and investment risks fall on the Group. The present value of the defined benefit obligations is calculated by an independent actuary using the projected unit credit method.

All remeasurement gains or losses are immediately recognized in Other Comprehensive Income, net of taxes and permanently excluded from the Statement of Profit and Loss. Further, the profit or loss will not include an expected return on plan assets. Instead, net interest recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss is calculated by applying the discount rate used to measure the defined benefit obligation to the net defined benefit liability or asset. The actual return on the plan assets above or below the discount rate is recognized as part of remeasurement of net defined liability or asset through Other Comprehensive Income, net of taxes. The Group has the following employee benefit plans:

i. Gratuity

The Group provides for gratuity, a defined benefit plan covering all eligible employees. The plan provides a lump sum payment to eligible employees at retirement or on termination of employment based on the salary of the respective employee and the years of employment with the Company.

The Group contributes to gratuity funds maintained by third parties, such as insurance companies and mutual funds. The amount of contribution is determined based upon actuarial valuations as at the period end using the projected unit credit method. Provision is made for the shortfall between the actuarial valuation carried out as at balance sheet date as per projected unit credit method and the fair value of the plan assets with the third parties, such as insurance companies and mutual funds.

Remeasurements of the net defined benefit liability, which comprise remeasurement gains and losses, the return on plan assets (excluding interest) and the effect of the asset ceiling (if any, excluding interest), are recognized in OCI, net of taxes. The Group determines the net interest expense (income) on the net defined benefit liability (asset) for the period, by applying the discount rate used to measure the defined benefit obligation at the beginning of the annual period to the then-net defined benefit liability (asset), taking into account any changes in the net defined benefit liability (asset) during the period as a result of contributions and benefit payments. Net interest expense and other expenses related to defined benefit plans are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

ii. Provident fund

Employees in India are eligible to receive provident fund benefits through a defined benefit plan in which the employees and the employer make monthly contributions to the plan.

Company's portion of the contribution is made to the approved provident fund trust managed by the Company while the remainder of the contribution is made to the Government administered pension fund. The provident fund trust guarantees a specified rate of return on such contributions. While the contributions made to the trust managed by the Company is accounted for as a defined benefit plan as the Company is liable for any shortfall in the Trust's assets based on the Government specified rate of return, the contributions made to the Government administered pension fund is accounted for as a defined contribution plan as the Company has no obligation other than to make such contributions.

Provident fund related to employees of Sasken Silicon Technologies Private Limited (SSTPL) are contributed to Government administered fund and is accounted as a defined contribution plan.

The Group contributes to a reinsured support fund maintained by an external agency. The contributions made by the employer are charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss on accrual basis. Provision is made for the shortfall between the actuarial valuation carried out as at the year end, based on the projected unit credit method and the plan assets.

(Amount ₹ in lakhs, except share and per share data, unless otherwise stated)

For other overseas branches, social security contributions are made as per the respective local laws and regulations. The same is charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss on an accrual basis. There are no obligations beyond the respective entity's contributions.

Remeasurements of the net defined benefit liability, which comprise remeasurement gains and losses are recognized in OCI.

iv. Superannuation

The Group contributes to a superannuation scheme, a defined contribution plan maintained by the Company with an insurance company. Such contributions are charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss on an accrual basis. The Group has no other obligations beyond its monthly contributions.

b) Short - term employee benefits

Employee benefits payable by the Group wholly within twelve months of receiving employee services are classified as short term employee benefits. These benefits include salaries and wages, bonus and ex-gratia. The undiscounted amount of short term employee benefits to be paid in exchange for employee services is recognized as an expense as the related service is rendered by employees.

c) Compensated absences

The Group's employees are entitled to compensated absences. The employees can carry forward a portion of the unutilized accumulating compensated absences and utilize it in future periods or receive cash at retirement or termination of employment. The Group records an obligation for compensated absences in the period in which the employee renders the services that increases this entitlement. The Group measures the expected cost of compensated absences as the additional amount that the Group expects to pay as a result of the unused entitlement that has accumulated at the end of the reporting period. The Group recognizes accumulated compensated absences based on actuarial valuation using the projected unit credit method. Non-accumulating compensated absences are recognized in the period in which the absences occur.

Accumulated leaves, which are expected to be utilized within the next twelve months and not eligible to be carried forward to future years, is treated as a short term employee benefit. The Group measures the expected cost of such absences as the additional amount that it expects to pay as a result of the unused entitlement that has accumulated at the reporting date. These amounts are charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss.

(I) Income taxes

Income tax comprises current and deferred tax. It is recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss, except to the extent that it relates to a business combination or to an item recognized directly in equity or in Other Comprehensive Income.

i. Current tax

Current tax comprises the expected tax payable or receivable on the taxable income or loss for the year and any adjustment to the tax payable or receivable in respect of previous years. The amount of current tax reflects the best estimate of the tax amount expected to be paid or received after considering the uncertainty, if any, related to income taxes. It is measured using tax rates (and tax laws) enacted or substantively enacted by the reporting date and applicable for the period.

Current tax assets and current tax liabilities are offset only if there is a legally enforceable right to set off the recognized amounts, and it is intended to realize the asset and settle the liability on a net basis or to realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

ii. Deferred tax

Deferred tax is recognized using the balance sheet approach, in respect of temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and the corresponding amounts used for taxation purposes. Deferred tax is also recognized in respect of carried forward tax losses and tax credits. Deferred tax is not recognized for:

- temporary differences arising on the initial recognition of assets or liabilities in a transaction that is not a business combination and that affects neither accounting nor taxable the Statement of Profit and Loss at the time of the transaction;

(Amount ₹ in lakhs, except share and per share data, unless otherwise stated)

- temporary differences related to investments in subsidiaries, associates and joint arrangements to the extent that the Group is able to control the timing of the reversal of the temporary differences and it is probable that they will not reverse in the foreseeable future; and
- taxable temporary differences arising on the initial recognition of goodwill.

Deferred tax assets are recognized to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which they can be used.

Deferred tax assets, whether unrecognized or recognized, are reviewed at each reporting date and are recognized / reduced to the extent that it is probable / no longer probable respectively that the related tax benefit will be realized.

Deferred tax is measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply to the period when the asset is realized or the liability is settled, based on the laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the reporting date.

The measurement of deferred tax reflects the tax consequences that would follow from the manner in which the Group expects, at the reporting date, to recover or settle the carrying amount of its assets and liabilities.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset if there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax liabilities and assets, and they relate to income taxes levied by the same tax authority on the same taxable entity, or on different tax entities, but they intend to settle current tax liabilities and assets on a net basis or their tax assets and liabilities will be realized simultaneously.

(m) Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share is computed by dividing the net Profit for the year attributable to equity shareholders by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year. The weighted average number of ordinary shares outstanding during the period is the number of ordinary shares outstanding at the beginning of the period, adjusted by the number of ordinary shares bought back or issued during the period multiplied by a time-weighting factor. The weighted average numbers of equity shares outstanding during the year is adjusted for events of bonus issue; bonus element in a rights issue to existing shareholders; share split; and reverse share split (consolidation of shares) and buy back of shares.

For the purpose of calculating diluted earnings per share, the net Profit for the year attributable to equity shareholders and the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the year is adjusted for the effects of all dilutive potential equity shares, except where the results are anti-dilutive.

(n) Provisions and contingencies

A provision is recognized when the Group has a present obligation as a result of past event; it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation, in respect of which a reliable estimate can be made. Provisions are not discounted to their present value and are determined based on best estimate required to settle the obligation at the balance sheet date. These are reviewed at each balance sheet date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimates.

Provisions for onerous contracts, i.e. contracts where the expected unavoidable costs of meeting the obligations under the contract exceed the economic benefits expected to be received under it, are recognized when it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle a present obligation as a result of an obligating event, based on a best estimate of such obligation.

Where no reliable estimate can be made, a disclosure is made as contingent liability. A disclosure for a contingent liability is also made when there is a possible obligation or a present obligation that may, but probably will not, require an outflow of resources. A contingent asset is neither recognized nor disclosed in the consolidated financial statements.

(o) Warranty

Provision for warranty related costs are recognized when the license is provided or service provided. Provision is based on historical experience. The estimate of such warranty related costs is revised periodically.

(p) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents in the cash flow statement comprise of cash at bank and in hand and short term investments with an original maturity value of three months or less. The cash flow statement is prepared under the indirect method.

(q) Stock compensation expense

(Amount ₹ in lakhs, except share and per share data, unless otherwise stated)

Equity settled share-based payments transactions:

The cost of equity-settled transactions is determined by the fair value at the date when the grant is made using Black Scholes model.

That cost is recognised, together with a corresponding increase in share based payments reserve in equity, over the period in which the performance and / or service conditions are fulfilled in employee benefits expense. The cumulative expense recognised for equity-settled transactions at each reporting date until the vesting date reflects the extent to which the vesting period has expired and the Group's best estimate of the number of equity instruments that will ultimately vest.

At the end of each reporting period, the Group revises its estimate of the number of equity instruments expected to vest. The impact of the change in estimates, if any, is recognised in the consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss such that the cumulative expense reflects the revised estimate, with a corresponding adjustment to the share based payments reserve in equity.

Cumulative expenses recognised pertaining to vested share options which are forfeited are transferred to General Reserve.

(r) Exceptional item

An item of income or expenses is presented separately as an exceptional item where such presentation is relevant to an understanding of the Group's financial performance.

Recent accounting pronouncements

Ministry of Corporate Affairs ("MCA") notifies new standards or amendments to the existing standards under Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules as issued from time to time. On August 13, 2025 MCA has notified following amendments to the existing accounting standards:

1. Ind AS 1, Presentation of Financial Statements, applicable w.e.f. April 1, 2025 - The amendment relates to classification of liabilities as current or non-current and non-current liabilities with covenants. In the context of classifying a liability as current, it removes the requirement of existence of a right to defer settlement for at least 12 months after the reporting date and instead requires that the said right should exist on the reporting date and have substance. The amendment also introduces guidance on classification of liabilities with covenants. The Group has reviewed the amendment and based on its evaluation has determined that it does not have any significant impact in its financial statements.
2. Ind AS 7, Statement of Cash Flows and Ind AS 107, Financial Instruments: Disclosures, applicable w.e.f. April 01, 2025 - The amendment in Ind AS 7 requires to inform users of financial statements of the existence of supplier finance arrangements and explain the nature of the arrangements, the carrying amount of liabilities and the range of payment due dates. Ind AS 107 has been amended to add supplier finance arrangements as a factor that may cause concentration of liquidity risk. The group has reviewed the amendment and based on its evaluation has determined that it does not have any significant impact in its financial statements.

New standards or amendments not yet adopted

1. Ind AS 1, Presentation of Financial Statements, applicable w.e.f. April 1, 2026 - The amendment relates to Classification of Liabilities as Current or Non-current and Non-current Liabilities with Covenants. Under the existing Ind AS 1, where there is a breach of a material provision of a long-term loan arrangement on or before the end of the reporting period with the effect that the liability becomes payable on demand on the reporting date, the entity does not classify the liability as current if the lender agreed, after the reporting period and before the approval of the financial statements for issue, not to demand payment as a consequence of the breach. However, the amended requirements stipulate that entities will no longer be permitted to consider lender waivers that are granted after the reporting date but before the financial statements are approved for the purpose of classification of loans. This amendment is required to be applied retrospectively in accordance with Ind AS 8. The Group will assess the impact, if any, on its operations or financial statements in the relevant financial year.

Other than these, the change in deferred tax assets and liabilities is recorded in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

In assessing the realizability of deferred tax assets, the group considers the extent to which it is probable that the deferred tax asset will be realized. The ultimate realization of deferred tax assets is dependent upon the generation of future taxable profits during the periods in which those temporary differences and tax loss carryforwards become deductible. The group considers the expected reversal of deferred tax liabilities, projected future taxable income and tax planning strategies in making this assessment. Based on this, the group believes that it is probable that the group will realize the benefits of these deductible differences. The amount of deferred tax asset considered realizable, however, could be reduced in the near term if the estimates of future taxable income during the carry-forward period are reduced.

The Group has provided for income taxes at the rates provided in Section 115BAA of the Income Tax Act, 1961.

The remaining performance obligation disclosure provides the aggregate amount of the transaction price yet to be recognized as at the end of the reporting year and an explanation as to when the Group expects to recognize these amounts in revenue. Applying the practical expedient as given in Ind AS 115, the Group has not disclosed the remaining performance obligation related disclosures for contracts where the revenue recognized corresponds directly with the value to the customer of the entity's performance completed to date, typically those contracts where invoicing is on time-and-material. Remaining performance obligation estimates are subject to change and are affected by several factors, including terminations, changes in the scope of contracts, periodic revalidations, adjustment for revenue that has not materialized and adjustments for currency fluctuations.

The aggregate value of performance obligations that are completely or partially unsatisfied out of the purchase orders received, other than those meeting the exclusion criteria mentioned above, is ₹ 4,246.92 lakhs as at March 31, 2026 (₹ 847.29 lakhs as at March 31, 2025). B. Financial risk management

The Group has exposure to the following risks arising from financial instruments:

- Credit risk;
- Liquidity risk; and
- Market risk.

i. Risk management framework

The Group's principal financial liabilities comprise trade payables, other payables. The main purpose of these financial liabilities is to finance the Group's operations. The Group's principal financial assets include trade receivables, cash and cash equivalents, other bank balances and unbilled revenues that derive directly from its operations.

The Group's activities expose it to a variety of financial risks: market risk, credit risk and liquidity risk. The Group's primary focus is to foresee the unpredictability of financial markets and seek to minimize potential adverse effects on its financial performance. The primary market risk for the Group pertains to investing activities. The Group's exposure to credit risk is influenced mainly by the individual characteristic of customers and counterparties to derivative instruments such as banks.

ii. Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk of financial loss to the Group if a customer or counterparty to a financial instrument fails to meet its contractual obligations, and arises principally from the Group's receivables from customers and investments in debt securities.

The carrying amount of the following financial assets represents the maximum credit exposure.

Credit risk refers to the risk of default on its obligation by the counterparty resulting in a financial loss. The maximum exposure to the credit risk at the reporting date is primarily from trade receivables amounting to ₹ 17,472.72 lakhs and ₹ 10,645.98 lakhs as of March 31, 2026 and March 31, 2025, respectively and unbilled revenues amounting to ₹ 5,131.32 lakhs and ₹ 3,020.37 lakhs as of March 31, 2026 and March 31, 2025, respectively. Credit risk has always been managed by the Group through credit approvals, establishing credit limits and continuously monitoring the creditworthiness of customers to which the Group grants credit terms in the normal course of business. As per Ind AS 109, the Group uses expected credit loss model to assess the impairment losses. The Group uses a provision matrix to compute the expected credit loss allowance for trade receivables and unbilled revenues. As per the provision matrix, the Group has recognised nil expected credit losses for the year ended March 31, 2026 (March 31, 2025: ₹ 294.55 lakhs).

The following table gives details in respect of percentage of revenues generated from top two customer and top ten customers:

Particulars	For the year ended March 31, 2026	For the year ended March 31, 2025
Revenue from top 2 customers	26.14%	14.61%
Revenue from top 10 customers	62.73%	55.46%

The carrying amount of the following financial assets represents the maximum credit exposure:

Trade receivables

The Group's exposure to credit risk is influenced mainly by the individual characteristics of each customer. However, management also considers the factors that may influence the credit risk of its customer base, including the default risk of the industry and country in which customers operate.

Credit risk arises from the possibility that customers may not be able to settle their obligations as agreed. The Group establishes an allowance for impairment that best represents its estimate of expected losses in respect of trade receivables. The Group has established a credit policy under which each new customer is analyzed individually for credit worthiness before the Group's standard payment and delivery terms and conditions are offered. There are no material balance outstanding of trade receivable more than 180 days.

iii. Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Group will encounter difficulties in meeting the obligations associated with its financial liabilities that are settled by delivering cash or another financial asset. The Group's approach to managing liquidity is to ensure, as far as possible, that it will have sufficient liquidity to meet its liabilities when they are due, under both normal and stressed conditions, without incurring unacceptable losses or risking damage to the Group's reputation.

The Group's principal sources of liquidity are cash and cash equivalents and the cash flow that is generated from operations. The Group has no outstanding bank borrowings. Management Discussion and Analysis Report

FY2025-26, A Year of Structural Progress

Sharper Execution. Stronger Mix. Systems-Led Direction.

FY2025-26 was a year of disciplined strengthening for Sasken. In a global environment shaped by selective technology spending, AI-led innovation, and evolving supply chains, we focused on execution quality, portfolio balance, and long-term capability depth.

What defined FY2025-26 for the company:

- Scale with discipline
Improved operating leverage as programs transitioned into steady-state execution.
- Portfolio rebalancing
Stronger services momentum, calibrated product management, and deeper strategic engagements.
- Chip-to-Cognition evolution
Expanded participation across silicon, embedded systems, platform software, hardware and intelligent engineering.
- 60x4x3 in action
Focused account mining, capability depth, and structured growth across priority markets.

As industries move toward integrated, software-defined, and AI-enabled systems, customers increasingly seek engineering partners who can operate across the full technology stack. Sasken's transition toward a full stack systems-focused model continues to gain traction in this evolving landscape.

The sections that follow provide management's perspective on industry trends, performance drivers, risks, and strategic priorities shaping the Company's trajectory.

Safe Harbor

In addition to historical information, this annual report contains certain forward-looking statements (FLS). The FLS contained herein is subject to certain risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from those reflected in the FLS. Factors that might cause such a difference include, but are not limited to, those discussed in the Management Discussion and Analysis of financial performance and elsewhere in this report. Readers are cautioned not to place undue reliance on these FLS, which reflect management's analysis only as of the date hereof.

Executive Overview

FY2025-26 was a year of consolidation and structural strengthening for Sasken. Building on the recalibration undertaken in prior periods, we focused on improving execution consistency, strengthening portfolio mix, and deepening long-term customer engagements. The year reflects measured progress toward a more balanced and systems-led engineering enterprise.

The operating environment remained mixed. While global macroeconomic conditions were cautious and supply-chain dynamics remained uneven, technology investments continued in areas such as semiconductor design, AI-led platforms, software-defined vehicles, digital engineering, and next-generation connectivity. Against this backdrop, we strengthened our presence across automotive, semiconductor, communications, industrial, and digital engineering segments.

Our priorities during the year remained consistent:

- Deepening multi-year, strategic customer engagements
- Expanding chip-to-cognition capabilities across silicon, embedded, and digital layers
- Balancing growth investments with operating discipline

Our 60x4x3 framework continued to guide capital allocation, customer mining, and capability building. As foundational diversification objectives gained traction, emphasis progressively shifted from expanding breadth to deepening account intensity and recurring revenue share.

The integration of Borqs further broadened our participation in connected mobility and IoT product programs, adding a complementary product dimension to our services portfolio. Operational alignment between services and product teams improved steadily throughout the year.

With continued investments in talent and AI, Sasken exits FY2025-26 with a solid foundation for scale, resilience, and long-term sustainable value creation.

Management Discussion and Analysis Report (Contd.)

Macro and Industry Context to our Strategy

Building on the momentum and structural repositioning outlined in last year's MD&A, FY2025-26 unfolded in an environment of measured macro recovery alongside sustained technology acceleration.

Global economic conditions remained cautious but stable. Enterprise spending in Engineering, Research & Development (ER&D) and product development showed gradual normalization, with allocations increasingly directed toward semiconductor programs, connectivity infrastructure, automotive electronics, industrial automation, and edge AI initiatives. Customers continued to prioritize investments that delivered platform longevity, architectural flexibility, and measurable returns.

While device and OEM end-markets saw calibrated capital expenditure cycles, engineering investments remained structurally resilient, particularly in software, embedded platforms, silicon enablement, and system sustenance. Buyers showed a preference for partners capable of spanning the design-to-sustenance lifecycle, including SoC bring-up, connectivity stacks, multimedia systems, device commercialization, and lifecycle management. This trend aligns closely with Sasken's silicon-proximate and embedded systems heritage.

Talent markets, while competitive in niche areas, were more balanced compared to the prior two years, enabling better utilization management and disciplined delivery execution.

At the macro level, global GDP growth is estimated at approximately 3-3.5% for 2026, supported by continued technology investments and relatively stable financial conditions. Importantly, capital expenditure in AI infrastructure, digital infrastructure, semiconductor manufacturing, and industrial automation remains a key driver of productivity growth globally.

AI is increasingly embedded within products, from automotive, SoCs and edge inference devices to industrial machinery and next-generation communication hardware. This shift from cloud-centric AI to embedded and edge AI creates sustained demand for engineering capabilities that operate close to silicon and hardware, areas where Sasken has longstanding competence.

Engineering, Research & Development (ER&D) services across industries:

The global ER&D services market continues to expand, driven by rising product complexity, software-led transformation, and cross-industry digitalization. Investment priorities have shifted toward AI-enabled design, digital twins, edge computing, IoT platforms, and lifecycle sustenance programs with clear ROI visibility.

North America remains the leading adopter of ER&D services, while Asia-Pacific continues to scale engineering hubs and manufacturing-linked R&D ecosystems. Europe is becoming increasingly relevant, with rising defense R&D budgets, a structural push for technology and communications sovereignty, and deepening software-defined investment across automotive and industrial sectors. Enterprise digital engineering spend has demonstrated resilience through macro cycles, with a clear bias toward AI augmentation, platform consolidation, and automation-led productivity gains.

These structural shifts reinforce demand for specialized engineering partners capable of operating across hardware, embedded software, and system layers rather than isolated service providers.

Semiconductor industry

The semiconductor industry entered a renewed expansion cycle, supported by AI acceleration, high-performance computing, advanced connectivity, and automotive demand. Global semiconductor revenues are projected to approach the USD 1 trillion milestone over the next few years, driven primarily by AI infrastructure and advanced node investments.

The industry's evolution extends beyond fabrication volumes. Software-defined architectures, heterogeneous integration, analog and mixed-signal innovation, and tighter hardware-software convergence are reshaping value creation models.

At the same time, improved access to reusable IP blocks and foundry ecosystems has lowered entry barriers for custom silicon programs, expanding the addressable design market.

Automotive, AI edge devices, industrial silicon platforms, and communications infrastructure continue to generate demand for:

- SoC bring-up and firmware
- Bootloaders and board support packages
- Connectivity stacks (BT, Wi-Fi, 5G, NTN)
- Multimedia pipelines
- Validation and verification
- System optimization

Management Discussion and Analysis Report (Contd.)

This broadening of silicon-adjacent engineering expands the opportunity set for companies with embedded depth and platform-level expertise. Our continued relevance in this space will depend on disciplined execution and sustained client trust.

Automotive

The automotive industry's transition toward electrification and software-defined vehicles (SDVs) continues to reshape engineering priorities. Electronics and embedded intelligence account for a growing share of vehicle value, while traditional mechanical components are increasingly commoditized.

Although global EV demand experienced moderation due to tariff pressures and pricing sensitivity in select markets, software and embedded engineering investments remain structurally driven by the SDV transformation rather than short-term unit volumes.

Automotive semiconductor content is projected to grow at a faster pace than legacy segments, reflecting the shift toward integrated compute platforms.

Sasken's embedded software, OS, middleware, connectivity, and validation capabilities position us to participate in multi-year SDV programs where software platforms increasingly outlive individual vehicle models.

Communications, Devices & Networks

Global communications infrastructure continues to expand, supported by 5G densification, private networks, satellite communications, and early-stage 6G research. 5G subscriptions now account for a significant portion of global mobile connections, reinforcing sustained demand for embedded systems and network software engineering. Non-Terrestrial Networks (NTN) are emerging as a distinct and fast-growing segment, extending connectivity to maritime, aviation, defense, and remote industrial applications.

Despite memory tightness and tariff-related uncertainties, device categories such as smartphones, enterprise devices, and connected hardware continue to evolve, driven by AI-enabled features and enhanced connectivity.

This environment supports engineering demand across device platforms, system optimization, and lifecycle management.

Industrials

The industrial sector continues its gradual digital transformation. Following supply chain normalization and inventory adjustments, enterprises are increasingly investing in automation, robotics, IoT-enabled machinery, and predictive maintenance systems.

Embedded software integration into heavy machinery, factory edge computing, and cloud-connected monitoring systems are becoming standard requirements rather than innovation pilots.

This creates steady engineering demand in embedded modernization, connectivity enablement, and lifecycle optimization.

Our Strategy: Depth over Breadth

During FY2025-26, we continued executing our 60x4x3 strategic framework. As the foundational objectives matured, our emphasis shifted from expansion to deepening engagement quality, increasing wallet share within strategic accounts, and monetizing built capabilities.

Against the backdrop of accelerating AI adoption and semiconductor program complexity, this shift positions Sasken for larger and longer-duration engagements.

- AI integration: We advanced our GenAI initiatives by deploying agentic solutions within engineering workflows and reinforcing secure-by-design frameworks suited for safety-critical industries. AI is being embedded across project lifecycles supporting code generation, validation acceleration, documentation automation, and insight generation. Early productivity gains are measurable, while adoption remains disciplined and governance led. We also invested in secure on-premise AI infrastructure to enable responsible enterprise-wide use. Select discussions are underway with customers to extend AI-enabled engineering capabilities into commercial engagements.
- Doubling down on Semiconductors: We deepened engagements across ASIC design, verification, embedded firmware, and platform software. Investments in advanced nodes, heterogeneous integration, and packaging-related competencies support next-generation AI and connectivity workloads. Our positioning increasingly spans both silicon layers and systems-software integration.
- Automotive programs: We scaled engineering services in EV, ADAS, telematics, and IVI platforms, particularly within European automotive ecosystems. As OEMs consolidate software architectures, our role is gradually evolving toward platform co-development rather than transactional project execution.
- Orderbook quality: We focused on deepening client relationships through multi-year, outcome-oriented engagements — growing total contract value and increasing the share of strategic accounts contributing above $1M and $4M annually. This approach reduces revenue volatility and positions Sasken as a structural partner rather than a project vendor, enhancing revenue visibility.

- Capability strengthening: We expanded digital product engineering capabilities across IoT, smart devices, and wearables. Leadership bandwidth was strengthened to anchor our AI and data science agenda. Delivery infrastructure was selectively expanded to support future scaling. We also opened new capability centers and expanded existing ones to strengthen our global delivery infrastructure.

Strategic Outcomes

Our actions were closely aligned with structural shifts in the global economy and industry landscape, enabling us to respond to market demands with agility and innovation, which resulted in:

- Enhanced market relevance and improved alignment with semiconductor and SDV-driven demand.
- Greater revenue resilience through diversified industry exposure.
- Strengthened engineering depth across silicon, embedded, and digital domains.
- Expanded into ODM capabilities through Borqs, enabling end-to-end product solutions.
- Measured AI adoption within delivery operations, laying the organizational and technical foundation for the next phase of capability-led growth.
- Operational improvements through process standardization and utilization discipline.

Opportunities

Structural demand drivers relevant to the company include:

- AI-accelerated engineering: Demand for AI-augmented product development, embedded AI integration, and automated validation continue to expand. We are embedding AI into our engineering lifecycle to enhance productivity, improve delivery velocity, and strengthen solution quality across engagements.
- Growth in semiconductor industry: Global investment in AI SoCs, advanced nodes, and heterogeneous integration remains strong. Sasken's full-stack capabilities from analog and mixed-signal circuit design to firmware, verification, and platform software allow us to engage across the chip lifecycle rather than at a single layer. The recent engagement to lead full-chip analog and mixed-signal design for a next-generation AI SoC on 12nm process technology exemplifies the depth of program we are now competing for and winning.
- Software-defined vehicles: OEM engineering spend continues to shift toward ADAS, IVI, telematics, OTA, and centralized architectures. Our embedded software depth and connected mobility capabilities position us for multi-year SDV programs aligned to the industry's software-led transition.
- Digitalization across industries: IoT adoption and intelligent manufacturing remain structural growth drivers. Expanded device and product engineering capabilities enhance our ability to deliver end-to-end solutions for OEMs and platform providers.
- ER&D outsourcing momentum: Enterprises and GCCs are increasing reliance on integrated engineering partners. Our chip-to-cognition breadth, multi-geography delivery, deep domain expertise and product engineering capabilities position us to pursue larger, longer-duration mandates.

Potential threats

- Memory supply tightness: The continued prioritization of AI-oriented memory production has constrained availability of conventional DRAM and NAND components. For our ODM business, this may impact production schedules, revenue timing, and margins. We are actively diversifying sourcing and engaging customers proactively on cost structures and supply planning.
- Supply-chain & geopolitical volatility: Ongoing trade policy shifts and geopolitical tensions may influence customer investment cycles. We are mitigating this through customer diversification, long-term contracts, and cross-geography delivery capabilities.
- Cost & margin pressures: Wage inflation and competitive pricing require sustained productivity improvements. AI-enabled delivery optimization, mix improvement, and focused upskilling remain key levers.
- Talent availability: As demand for specialized AI and advanced engineering skills continues to rise, we are focusing on academic partnerships, internal capability development programs, strengthening Sasken Academy programs and structured career progression pathways to retain high-value talent.

Management Discussion and Analysis Report (Contd.)

The structural shifts across key sectors continue to reinforce the relevance of Sasken's capabilities. Our approach remains measured and execution focused. We remain focused on deepening domain expertise, improving engagement quality, and building long-term client partnerships. The progress made in FY2025-26 positions us to participate responsibly in the next phase of technology-led expansion while maintaining operational discipline and strategic clarity.

Revenue

We closed the year FY2025-26 with a consolidated revenue of ₹ 1,11,317 Lakhs as compared to ₹ 55,091 Lakhs in FY2024-25, delivering a robust year-on-year growth of 102.1% with organic revenues growing at 27.4% YoY.

Revenue growth was broad-based across top verticals including Semiconductors, Networks & Communications, Automotive, Industrial; reflecting both the deepening of existing strategic relationships and the addition of new logo wins. The consolidation of Borqs added a Product Solutions dimension to our revenue profile, expanding our addressable market beyond pure engineering services.

Segment performance

Our revenues are generated from two key categories: Software Services and Product Solutions as presented below:

Geographical performance

We present our geographical mix of revenue based on the location of our customers.

Management Discussion and Analysis Report (Contd.)

60x4x3 Strategy progress

Our 60x4x3 strategic framework supported our year-on-year growth with customers contributing $4M+ expanding from 3 in FY2024-25 to 6 in FY2025-26.

Our total orders booked were at $172.7M as compared to $68.0M in FY2024-25 (a 154.0% increase YoY). Customers with annual run-rate of more than USD 1 Million have increased to 26 in FY2025-26 from 20 in FY2024-25.

Expenses

The total expenses for FY2025-26 are ₹ 1,02,474 lakhs compared to ₹ 52,800 lakhs in FY2024-25, an increase of 94.1% in absolute terms, though as % of sales improving to 92.1% from 95.8% in FY2024-25.

Particulars	FY2026		FY2025		Growth %
	₹ Lakhs	% of revenue	₹ Lakhs	% of revenue
Cost of material consumed	23,735	21.3%	0	0.0%	-
(Increase)/decrease in work-in-progress, finished goods	-233	-0.2%	0	0.0%	-
Employee benefit expense	63,118	56.7%	42,952	78.0%	46.9%
Other expenses	15,854	14.2%	9,848	17.9%	61.0%
Total	1,02,474	92.1%	52,800	95.8%	94.1%

The step-up in absolute costs was largely structural, driven by the consolidation of Borqs Technologies, calibrated investments in GenAI capabilities, and headcount additions to support revenue growth.

Employee costs increased by 46.9% YoY, reflecting headcount absorbed through the Borqs acquisition as well as targeted hiring to support expanded service delivery across the Group. The entry into the products business also introduced inventory-related costs for the first time, consistent with the different cost profile of that segment.

Other expenses - comprising professional, legal and consultancy charges, rent, travel, and miscellaneous items - increased in absolute terms with the first full-year consolidation of Borqs, and organic business growth. Facilities costs rose with the expanded operational footprint, including premises across Borqs entities in China, Hong Kong, and India. Professional, legal, and consultancy charges were mainly driven by new business in the products segment.

Overall, FY2025-26 reflects a transition from investment-led expansion to operational consolidation, with improved cost discipline and early operating leverage benefits.

Depreciation and amortization expenses

Depreciation and amortization expenses have increased to ₹ 3,900 lakhs for FY2025-26 as against ₹ 1,396 lakhs in FY2024-25. During the year, new premises were taken on long-term lease in Kolkata, Japan and China and accounted as Right-of-use assets. Further amortization of intangible rights recognized on the Borqs acquisition contributed to the increase.

Other Income

Other Income comprises fair valuation of mutual funds, alternate investment funds, interest from corporate deposits, tax free bonds, government securities and non-convertible debentures (NCD), gain on sale of investments, profit on sale of fixed assets, preference dividend on investment, exchange gains on foreign currency, interest on income tax refund and other miscellaneous receipts.

Management Discussion and Analysis Report (Contd.)

Other income for FY2025-26 has decreased to ₹ 3,870 lakhs as compared to ₹ 5,584 lakhs in FY2024-25 as funds parked in treasury was utilized for business acquisition. The Company has earned an annualized pre-tax yield of 6.3% in FY2025-26 as against 8.8% in FY2024-25. The returns from investments are as follows:

Yield	Pre-Tax Yield	Pre-Tax Yield
	FY 2026	FY 2025
Not Including Equity Mutual Funds	6.7%	8.3%
Including Equity Mutual Funds	6.3%	8.8%

During FY2025-26, both debt and equity markets remained largely subdued, witnessing significant corrections amid heightened volatility. Market sentiment was adversely impacted by escalating geopolitical tensions, particularly the US-Israel-Iran conflict, alongside the imposition of new US tariffs on several global trading partners. These developments triggered foreign capital outflows, a sharp rise in crude oil prices, depreciation of the ₹, and increased fluctuations in the US dollar, collectively contributing to turbulence across financial markets.

Income Tax Expense

The tax charges vary depending on the nature of the business transaction, mix of onsite-offshore revenues, country of operations and the selection of tax regime.

Particulars (₹ in Lakhs)	FY2026	FY2025
Profit Before Tax	7,582	6,201
Total Tax Expense	1,717	1,150
Effective Tax Rate	22.7%	18.5%

The effective tax rate increased to 22.7% in FY2025-26, up from 18.5% in FY2024-25. While taxes on business income remained broadly consistent year-over-year, the rise in the overall tax rate is primarily attributable to changes in treasury income composition.

Fixed assets:

In FY2025-26, Property, Plant and Equipment totaling ₹ 1,735 lakhs were added of which ₹ 265 lakhs were added through acquisitions. Goodwill of ₹ 17,323 lakhs were recognized as part of the business acquisition during the year.

Cash and investments:

The Group manages its treasury investments with a disciplined approach, guided by the core principles of safety, liquidity, and return. Surplus funds are strategically allocated and managed through robust treasury operations in various instruments.

The cash and investments, representing 32.1% of the total assets, decreased by ₹ 25,268 lakhs during the year due to utilization of investments for acquisition of new subsidiaries for expansion and for payment of dividend.

The details of the same are as follows:

Cash & Treasury investments (₹ in Lakhs)	As of March 31, 2026			As of March 31, 2025

A key pillar of our investment policy is a proactive risk management framework that ensures continuous monitoring of market conditions. This approach enables us to realize profits based on predefined market triggers, facilitating prudent decision-making and the timely capture of gains in a dynamic and often volatile market environment.

In line with this strategy and considering the heightened volatility across debt and equity markets during FY2025-26, we increased our focus on portfolio diversification and capital preservation through a more risk-conscious investment approach. During the year, we enhanced our allocation to multi-asset allocation funds to achieve better diversification across asset classes and reduce overall portfolio risk amid uncertain market conditions. In addition, we increased our exposure to liquid funds, reflecting a strategic shift toward lower-risk, fixed-income instruments aimed at preserving capital, maintaining portfolio stability, and retaining flexibility to capitalize on tactical investment opportunities as they arise.

In addition, ₹ 30,003 lakhs was paid as part of the Borqs acquisition and the Group invested ₹ 403 lakhs in its Japan subsidiary, in line with its strategic focus on expanding international operations and expanding capabilities.

During FY2025-26, the Group made an additional investment of ₹ 100 lakhs in the Ideaspring Capital Future Now II Fund, bringing the total investment to ₹ 850 lakhs against a capital commitment of ₹ 1,000 lakhs. Similarly, ₹ 120 lakhs were invested in the MV Core Tech Fund I during the year, taking the total investment to ₹ 850 lakhs, also against a capital commitment of ₹ 1,000 lakhs. Both these funds are classified as Category II Alternative Investment Funds and are measured at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVOCI).

Trade receivables, unbilled revenue, and contract assets:

Trade receivables, unbilled revenue, and contract assets were at ₹ 26,887 lakhs as of March 31, 2026, representing 23.1% of the total assets. This balance was ₹ 14,658 lakhs as of March 31, 2025. Days Sales Outstanding (DSO), including unbilled revenue, and contract assets, improved to 88 days in FY2025-26, compared to 97 days in FY2024-25. This improvement is primarily structural in nature: the consolidation of the Borqs-led Product Solutions business introduced a segment with materially shorter credit periods than the Group's traditional services contracts, bringing down the blended average DSO. The improvement also reflects continued discipline in receivables management and billing cycle optimization within the Software Services segment. The Group periodically assesses the quality of its receivables portfolio and makes provisions for doubtful debts where required, ensuring that the carrying value of receivables reflects expected recoverability.

Other assets:

Other assets include derivative assets, tax assets, other financial assets, and others. Other assets of ₹ 13,486 lakhs as of March 31, 2026, represent 11.6% of the total assets. This balance was at ₹ 10,467 lakhs as of March 31, 2025.

Liabilities

As of March 31, 2026, lease liabilities (non-current and current), representing 9.7% of total liabilities, were at ₹ 2,811 lakhs, as against ₹ 2,557 lakhs as of March 31, 2025. The increase is attributable to new leases in Japan, China and Kolkata including lease renewals.

Deferred revenue consists primarily of advance billings to customers based on contracts for which work is yet to be completed. As of March 31, 2026, deferred revenue, representing 13.6% of total liabilities, was at ₹ 3,957 lakhs, as against ₹ 884 lakhs as of March 31, 2025. The variance is attributable to the billing and collection terms specified in contracts with certain customers.

During FY2025-26, cash flow used in operating activities was ₹ (2,283) lakhs as against ₹ (5,716) lakhs in FY2024-25. Operating cash flow improved year-on-year, driven by strong growth in operating profit; however, continued investments in working capital, particularly in trade receivables and inventories to support planned top-line growth, resulted in a net cash outflow from operations for the year.

Key ratios

Our operating margins improved to 4.4% from 1.6% in the previous year. Net profit margin declined from 9.2% in FY2024-25 to 5.3% in FY2025-26 due to the impact of a one-time exceptional item, additional expenses due to the integration of Borqs and a decline in other income amid market volatility.

Management Discussion and Analysis Report (Contd.)

Threats, Risks and Concerns

The Company's risk landscape in FY2025-26 was broader and more complex, with the expansion of its business footprint across engineering services, silicon design, and the ODM segment following the Borqs acquisition.

The technology services industry is influenced by several external and structural factors. Geopolitical developments, including rising trade tensions and tariffs, are reshaping global supply chains and influencing client investment decisions. Rapid advances in artificial intelligence, particularly generative AI and agentic automation, are also transforming the ER&D services landscape.

While these technologies create new opportunities, they are also altering traditional service delivery models, as clients increasingly explore in-house capabilities and automation changes the economics of effort-based services.

In addition, the semiconductor industry is facing a memory chip shortage, which presents a near-term supply-side risk for the Company's ODM business.

In FY2025-26, we updated our ERM policy and guidelines to align with the evolving risk landscape. Our risk management program now places greater focus on strategic and emerging risks, as well as the successful integration of M&A activities, in addition to managing internal risks.

The program continues to remain aligned with the SEBI (Listing Obligations and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2015, and the Companies Act, 2013.

Major risks in the Company's current business landscape, their nature, and mitigations are listed on the table below:

Risk	Nature	Mitigation
Artificial Intelligence proliferation and transformation	Artificial Intelligence (AI) is rapidly transforming the technology services industry and creating new competitive risks. AI-driven productivity improvements are changing traditional delivery models and may reduce the scope of certain services as automation increases, which could place pressure on margins. A meaningful share of the Company's work today i.e. firmware, safety-critical embedded software, chip design, regulatory-certified engineering, and proprietary client code bases, sits below the OS layer, where AI-led commoditization is structurally constrained. Nevertheless, clients are increasingly expecting AI-enabled solutions along with strong governance, security, explainability, and responsible AI practices. This shift is redefining how the Company needs to deliver value, improve productivity, and compete in a digital-first environment. Also, competition for AI-skilled talent with the ability to deliver AI-enabled projects is intensifying.	In parallel, we are deploying AI as an accelerant within our core engineering workflows, organized under a four-tier approach covering internal operational efficiency, AI-infused delivery, externalizing AI as a sellable capability, and cultural readiness. Our top-down AI strategy will be guiding investments, capability building, and client engagement as AI-driven delivery models continue to evolve. Efforts will focus on expanding AI-enabled platforms, automation capabilities, and domain-integrated AI solutions to remain competitive in a rapidly changing technology services environment. We proactively engage with clients to better understand emerging AI-led transformation needs across industries such as telecom, automotive, and digital infrastructure. Recognizing the importance of responsible AI adoption, we are strengthening AI governance frameworks covering areas such as data security, explainability, and ethical AI use. We are preparing to respond to changing client expectations, compete more effectively for AI-driven opportunities, and position ourselves for long-term growth in an AI-enabled technology landscape.
Customer Concentration risks	A significant portion of the Company's revenue is derived from a limited number of key customers, industry segments and geographic markets. Any adverse developments affecting these customers, sectors or regions, including reduced technology spending, industry downturns, changes in sourcing strategies, or loss of key engagements, could have an adverse impact on the company's revenue, growth prospects and financial performance.	Our 60x4x3 mission is aimed at creating focus on growth imperative, while driving a meaningful broadening of the customer base and reducing dependency on few large customers. We maintain close engagement with clients, regularly attempting to understand client needs and measure expectations. Furthermore, our inorganic acquisitions provide a greater platform of solutions for our clients. We constantly monitor client landscape changes and are developing feed-forward/ early warning mechanisms.

Management Discussion and Analysis Report (Contd.)

Risk	Nature	Mitigation
Cyber Security Risk	Exposure to threats and vulnerabilities associated with information technology (IT) systems, networks, and digital assets. These risks can arise from various sources, including cyberattacks, data breaches, malware infections, and insider threats, insecure applications, unauthorized access, misuse of cloud or external storage services, weaknesses in network security controls, or evolving cyber threats targeting enterprise systems. Such incidents may result in operational disruptions, loss or leakage of sensitive information, financial losses, regulatory non-compliance, and reputational damage.	We have implemented robust cybersecurity measures, including firewalls, IDS, IPS, endpoint security, encryption, access controls, and DLP to protect against unauthorized access. Regular security assessments and penetration testing help address IT system vulnerabilities. Our incident response plan outlines steps for detecting, containing, and mitigating data breaches, and communicating with affected parties, authorities, and the public. Employees receive cybersecurity awareness training on recognizing threats like phishing, social engineering, and insider attacks, as well as best practices and confidentiality obligations. Software and systems are routinely updated and patched to prevent exploitation by cyber attackers. Our Quality Management Systems comply with international standards ISO/IEC 27001:2022 and TISAX.
Data Security and Privacy	Risk of data loss, corruption, or unauthorized access due to hardware / software issues, insecure coding, or inadequate PII protection. This may lead to operational disruption, data breaches, privacy violations, reputational damage, and regulatory penalties. Insufficient vulnerability detection mechanisms, insecure third-party or open-source components, and evolving cyber threats may further increase exposure to security incidents. These factors may result in operational disruptions, data breaches, privacy violations, service interruptions, reputational damage, regulatory non-compliance, financial losses, or project delays.	The Secure Software Development Lifecycle (including secure coding guidelines) is adhered to by the delivery teams throughout the project lifecycle until the closure phase. For instance, we utilize the Secure SDLC framework at Sasken Management Systems and follow secure coding guidelines for C and C++, for example: MISRA. Additionally, our teams under customer work environment follow secure lifecycle as per their established practices. By employing open-source code scanning tools, we identify vulnerabilities and consult with customer/internal information security teams for guidance on their resolution. Examples of such tools include Klocworks Insight, Black Duck, and FOSSA. We establish robust controls at entry and exit points within the organization to ensure both digital and physical security, thereby preventing any breach of confidential information. We have implemented a comprehensive framework to address data privacy requirements in accordance with various regulatory standards worldwide. This framework includes technical and organizational measures, policies, processes, guidelines, systems, IT controls, and controls across HR, payroll, and other departments. Additionally, we have established cross-border data transfer mechanisms to prevent any leakage of stakeholder privacy within and outside of Sasken, associated with business needs. Periodic Data Privacy Impact Assessments (DPIAs) are conducted to identify potential risks related to personally identifiable information (PIIs) and to take corrective actions. Our organization is certified according to global standards such as ISO/IEC 27001 and ISO/IEC 27701. Management Discussion and Analysis Report (Contd.)

Risk	Nature	Mitigation
Demand and supply risks	Variations in consumer demand due to factors such as evolving customer preferences, technological progress, and economic shifts can result in uncertainties and possible disruptions. Furthermore, the availability of skilled software professionals may constrain the provision of services, particularly in high-demand domains such as embedded software development, data science, and cybersecurity.	We are expanding services for the industries we serve, aiming to cater to a wider range of customer needs and preferences, and ensuring comprehensive support across the value chain. We are prioritizing innovation to lead emerging trends by investing in research and development, fostering creative solutions, and staying ahead of market demands and technological advancements. We are investing in talent development initiatives, forming partnerships with educational institutions, and utilizing vendor ecosystem to tap into larger talent pools.
Employee Engagement / Retention	The Company's ability to attract, develop and retain skilled professionals is critical to sustaining business growth and delivering high-quality services to clients. Demand for talent in emerging technology areas, including AI and digital technologies, along with the growth of Global Capability Centers (GCCs) and heightened competition for specialized skills, may create challenges in hiring and retaining key talent. Additionally, disengaged employees can negatively impact productivity, while high turnover rates can cause significant disruptions to business operations.	We offer competitive compensation packages, professional development opportunities, and a positive work culture to attract and retain top talent. Aimed at fostering a motivated and connected workforce, a structured rewards and recognition program is in place to celebrate individual and team achievements. Transparent communication through regular leadership town halls and open forums. Employee engagement surveys are conducted periodically, with actionable insights used to enhance workplace culture. Wellness initiatives addressing physical, mental, and emotional well-being are introduced to support employees holistically. We provide leadership development programs, mentoring opportunities, and leadership coaching to groom future leaders
Geopolitical risks	The Company operates in a global business environment and may be exposed to risks arising from geopolitical developments, including trade disputes, sanctions, political instability, conflicts, and social unrest. Such developments may disrupt supply chains, restrict market access, impact client spending patterns, and affect the Company's ability to deliver services across regions. In addition, global economic or political uncertainties may lead to reduced technology spending, project deferrals, contract renegotiations, talent mobility constraints, or delays in client decision-making.	We closely monitor geopolitical developments across the markets and factor in their potential impact on our business, operations and client engagements. Our diversified global client base and multi-location delivery model help reduce dependence on any single geography and support operational continuity. We work closely with clients to adapt delivery models and prioritize critical projects during periods of uncertainty.

Risk	Nature	Mitigation
Mergers & Acquisition Risk	Merger & Acquisition risks encompass a range of potential challenges that can arise during and after the transaction process, including operational, financial, legal, and cultural challenges that could negatively impact the success of a merger or acquisition.	We engage professionals and experts to help us conduct due diligence covering financial, operational, legal and cultural dimensions. Integration planning is anchored by strong executive sponsorship with clearly defined roles, identification of synergies, and realistic timelines. We engage experienced professionals to deliver specialized assistance. Risk mitigation includes well-defined earnout clauses tied to performance, insurance, hedging strategies, succession planning for key leadership, and retention plan of high-potential talent. We ensure operational monitoring to address customer retention, supplier diversification, and stakeholder communication.
Strategy execution risks	Company may face multiple risks in pursuing its 60x4x3 mission. These risks arise from both organic and inorganic initiatives, as well as internal and external factors. Any misalignment to the mission, lack of adequate efforts or investments can negatively delay execution, limit revenue opportunities, and impede the achievement of the Company's strategic objectives, and impact brand perception.	Comprehensive implementation plans have been developed for each strategic priority, with defined goals, objectives, and milestones to guide execution. Opportunities are identified based on their alignment and their potential to impact achievement of strategic objectives. Performance metrics and ownership mechanisms are established to monitor progress and ensure accountability for results. Progress measurement is being recalibrated to track outcomes and revenue contributions including newly built capabilities (Silicon, ODM and AI infused delivery)
Technology Change risks	The technology and engineering services industry is facing several structural shifts. Products are increasingly moving toward software-defined platforms, electrification, connectivity, and autonomous capabilities. In telecommunications and enterprise infrastructure, networks are evolving toward integrated platforms and autonomous network architectures. Additionally, industries such as semiconductors and advanced electronics continue to face capacity constraints, technology transitions, and shifting compute architectures, which can affect supply chains and product development cycles. Together, these developments may create risks related to changing client spending patterns, higher technology investment requirements, and the need for new engineering capabilities to remain competitive.	We recognize that several industries are moving toward software-defined architectures, electrification, and connected systems. We are strengthening our capabilities in embedded software, connected platforms, and system-level engineering, so that we can support clients as their products become more software-intensive. In sectors such as telecommunications and digital infrastructure, where networks are evolving, we expect to build capabilities that allow us to support clients in modernizing and scaling their technology environments. Similarly, as industries such as automotive and industrial systems continue to evolve toward connected and software-driven products, we are strengthening our domain expertise to remain relevant to client programs. Overall, we believe that maintaining close engagement with clients, strengthening engineering capabilities, and gradually adapting to evolving product architectures will be important for responding to these technology shifts and sustaining our competitiveness in the market.

In addition to the above major risks, the Company is continually exposed to several business, operational, financial, and regulatory risks and obligations, including but not limited to threats from competition, predictable project delivery, contractual obligations arising from customer agreements, competency development, local and international compliance, diversity and inclusion, treasury and foreign exchange risks, business continuity and disaster management, and reputation and brand risks.

Our risk management policy and guideline provide the necessary framework to help prioritize key risks and mitigations as well as outlines management and board risk committee level oversight of our enterprise-wide risk management program.

Internal control systems and their adequacy

At Sasken, we recognize the importance of robust internal control systems in safeguarding assets, ensuring accurate financial reporting, and maintaining compliance with regulatory requirements.

Our internal control framework is designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the achievement of operational objectives, reliability of financial reporting, and compliance with applicable laws and regulations. The control environment is aligned with the scale and evolving risk profile of the Company's technology services business, with policies and procedures in place to support the prevention and detection of fraud and errors, and to ensure the accuracy and completeness of accounting records.

Based on a structured scoping process that considers key operational and financial areas reviewed in previous years, along with significant developments and business changes during the preceding twelve months and in consultation with the audit committee, critical areas are identified annually for internal audit coverage, with reviews conducted periodically throughout the year.

In addition, the Company undertakes an annual evaluation of its Internal Financial Controls (IFC) over financial reporting. This assessment includes testing both the design and operating effectiveness of key financial controls to ensure the reliability and integrity of financial statements. Independent professional firms are engaged to conduct both internal audits and IFC testing, ensuring objectivity and adherence to professional standards.

Complementing these mechanisms, the Company has established a whistleblower framework that enables employees and stakeholders to raise concerns in a secure and confidential manner. This mechanism reinforces the Company's commitment to transparency, ethical conduct, and accountability.

Senior management reviews the findings and ensures that appropriate corrective actions are implemented where necessary. The results of internal audit and IFC assessments, as well as any concerns raised via the whistleblower mechanism, are presented to the Audit Committee of the Board, thereby providing necessary independent oversight of the Company's internal control environment.

During the year under review, these governance and control processes did not identify any significant weaknesses in the Company's internal control systems, and management believes that the existing framework remains adequate and effective in supporting the Company's operational integrity and financial discipline.
